PREFACE

These “Stories From Heaven” could not have been given to the world at a more appropriate time than now. The world is in a terrible state of corruption and confusion politically, religiously and socially. Honesty, modesty, genteelness and morality seem to have been eliminated from our way of life, at least in effect if not consciously. However, God has given the world a Miracle it needs.

On July 28, 1967, The Miracle Of Saint Joseph was formally announced to a True Mystic. God had chosen a woman to give us the sound direction, hope and example we need. It was not the first time God had chosen a woman to accomplish His Purpose, always for a specific task in a particular time. This True Mystic for our day is Frances Marie Klug. She resided in Southern California as a wife, a mother, and a grandmother until her death on November 15, 2009.

In This Miracle Of Saint Joseph, Many Saints have come forth to speak through Frances Klug. These “Stories From Heaven” are just a few of the thousands of Revelations received through her. Very often these Revelations were preceded by extensive Teachings which time and space did not allow us to put in print. However, some of these Teachings will be found in several of the many Volumes of "Stories From Heaven".

In these Revelations The Saints refer to Frances as "the child", "the funnel", "the spoon", "the instrument" and "the little one". God made her our Spiritual Mother. For many years now, because of this fact, she has been called "Mother Frances", or simply "Mother". Heaven also refers to people of all ages as "children" and emphasizes time and again, This Miracle is for people of all races, all colors and all creeds.

For someone turning the pages of these "Stories From Heaven" for the first time, they will easily recognize the sound logic and sound direction the Messages contain. Mother Frances heard the Words with the Ears of her Soul, and would repeat Them aloud when she was told to do so.

This Teaching Miracle is a direct parallel to the time Our Lord walked the earth. He did not loudly proclaim to everyone, "I am The Son of God." He taught in a quiet manner, simple, extensive, but always detailed in repetitiveness, instilling in those listening what He wanted them to remember. He taught in parables, short, simple stories containing moral lessons. He knew men could more easily understand and remember the point He was trying to make this way. His “Teaching Stories” pertained to everyday living, practical matters, and how to become a Saint. He gave hope through these stories. He gave example.

Now in our time, God is once again giving us “Teaching Stories” through Saint Joseph and His instrument, Mother Frances. Through her, in a quiet, unassuming and genteel way which appears so “natural”, mankind is again being taught the Purpose of life, and what God expects man to be like in his daily living. People feel hope in these Teachings, Example always given.

Two major Revelations of significance have been given for us in our day. Our Heavenly Mother is Part of The Divine, and Saint Joseph is truly The Holy Ghost. These should not bring an immediate rejection, but should pique our curiosity and interest.

Our Faith in God is based upon many mysteries. Whether it be The Holy Trinity, the Incarnation of God, or The Holy Eucharist, men strive to understand These, trying to grasp a small glimpse of the Beauty of the Truth They Are. These mysteries also pique our imagination and interest. However, even though we know God revealed these mysteries to mankind and we accept them in Faith, they still remain just that, mysteries.

One has only to look at these “Stories From Heaven” to see the value They are, and to feel the hope They instill. No man can logically deny purity of thought when it is so obvious. No man can deny purity in direction, when it is based on sound morals, sound values, sound standards. Do not be blind to truth. Skepticism is for people who are unable to see the truth of a matter or situation, and many times skepticism drowns out purity because it is full of ego and pride in one’s self. Skeptics find it an easy out to disclaim truth.

There is no doubt that it takes time for such Phenomena as This Miracle to penetrate even those minds who feel they are capable of discerning such Phenomena. We must not be governed by purely another man’s determination, but we must understand that logic, sound reasoning and purpose must be the criteria of our Faith in God.

PLEASE READ

In some early volumes of “Stories From Heaven”, many Revelations describe edifices to be built on Saint Joseph’s Hill Of Hope. As just one facet of The Miracle Of Saint Joseph, God invited men of all races, colors and creeds to participate in building a “City Of God”. Every building, chapel, bridge, shrine, garden, amphitheater, and even a hospital and a research center, to be included in this Magnificent Project, would be designed down to the most minute detail by Heaven.

This City Of God would be a place of great beauty for men throughout the world to visit, to gain true spiritual strength and to learn firsthand that which Heaven wants all men to know.

Much to the great loss of every man, woman and child in the world, this City has not been built. Innumerable obstacles were placed in the way of Its completion by those who would have benefited the most. Not enough men volunteered to return the gifts of their time and talents to God. Not enough people came forward with the money needed to participate in God’s Plan in a monetary way. Donations became less and less, because the men in the Church said, “Don’t give.” They discouraged people from participating.

For many years, Mother Frances and a handful of volunteers made every effort to overcome all opposition to men’s lack of wisdom, to build this City for God. However, we are not at a total loss. The Sound Teaching and Sound Direction given by Heaven in the many volumes of “Stories From Heaven” continued through the years, and will benefit people everywhere for many generations to come.

In the future, if the hearts and minds of men change, the world will one day see the Beautiful City Of God.

Along with the Formal Revelations there is much Instructive Teaching delivered in the same manner as the Formal Revelations.

Heaven deliberately many times separates this form and format so that it is seen and understood as a distinctly structured form of Teaching.

The Teachings approach the subject matter in an instructive manner, to enable the reader to the sound practice necessary to exercise moral standards and obligations in a more practical day-to-day practice of personal application.

The Formal Teachings that follow are but a few that were delivered to emphasize particular situations, conditions regarding The Society Of The Little Way and/or The Society Of Saint John Vianney.

Also, these were delivered at a Meeting and/or a Retreat.

Stories From Heaven

All Revelations are delivered spontaneously and continuously as witnessed by all those present at the time.

“BALANCE”

“We are surrounded by balance in the universe, upon the earth, in all living things upon the earth, and in our understanding that there must always be balance in how we live, and in our mental, physical and Spiritual welfare.

Balance to our physical life is important in how we take care of our bodies, what we eat, how much exercise we indulge in, and how much care we take in our personal habits.

We understand that our mental outlook must be positive, and we must use our intellect to further our abilities and capabilities, to express our talents, and to develop our values and standards so that balance is always evident in our mental outlook on all things.

Our Spiritual life must also have balance in its daily regime. In answering someone who might say, ‘How can one reach a balance in Spiritual regime?’ it would be only logical to inform the person that to live by God's Ten Commandments would be the first step in fulfilling balance in a Spiritual regime. Then, to address each avenue for more Spiritual growth, it would be suggested that there be more understanding of prayer, recognize the necessity of prayer, and the purpose for prayer to be integrated with more knowledge of sound Spiritual advice that has been handed down through time by well-balanced writings written by spiritually strong people.

As Roman Catholics, we should not stop at this point of understanding what is involved in Holy Mother Church. To have a sound balance to what one is a part of, it would be wise for many Roman Catholics to read about Church History, and also read the Encyclicals, plus be up on Canon Law.

To just be a member of Holy Mother Church is enough spiritually for some people, and there is no doubt that simple Faith balanced by the practice of this Faith, can not only encourage one to become a Saint, but it can be accomplished.

Some Roman Catholics need more depth of understanding to create a balance in their Spiritual growth, so they should be encouraged to look into the structure and laws governing the structure of Roman Catholicism.

When one is blind physically, it is said that the other senses become much more alert, much more sensitive, and that these people cultivate many things that sighted people do not realize, or are not aware of in many areas. So it is with our Spiritual life. Not knowing all there is to know about Holy Mother Church can, and many times does give some people more insight, more sensitivity to God. Then there are those who feel they must have more knowledge, so they should research it, apply themselves, and do it in a way and a manner to help them grow spiritually, and not only to learn more but to enrich what they already have so that balance is felt by them, so they do not have to go out and listen to what all other self-made evangelists are dramatizing, speculating on, and using to encourage belief in them instead of belief in God.”

“ARMOR”

“What type of armor do you wear to protect your principles?”

What kind of armor do you use to resist temptations?

Are you aware of the fact that you need some type of armor to battle the obstacles you encounter in every decision you make that entails your personal sound moral values and sound moral standards?

What type of armor do you see supports others’ good opinion of you?

The early Christians didn’t bear weapons against the enemy, and the armor worn by the Christians, by some people’s standards, would not be considered armor, but it was for them in their time, and that was their Faith in the Messiah. We too, in having Faith in God, have a powerful armor against evil, immorality.

Ask yourself, ‘How can my Faith in God be developed to such a degree that my armor against sacrilege, immorality, shows in my moral code of ethics, in my prayer practices, in my example?’

There are additional types of armor in our day that support our Faith in God, and we express them through:

What we wear openly, in our clothing and in our facial expressions.

Our courage through difficult times in the face of disappointments under obstacles.

Our stability in the handling of our responsibilities.

Our logic in determinations that involve little decisions or important decisions.

Our integrity in how we deal with those with whom we share information, personal or business.

Our example, covering our moral standards and values, showing our true code of ethics.

Our fairness in decisions, under-standing and disagreements.

Our speech in everything we say, everything we uphold in what we say.

Our charity, through our words, our deeds and our actions.

Our personal attitude that shows our strength in character, strength in humility.

Our cleanliness, demonstrated by our pure thoughts and our show of personal cleanliness in our appearance.

Our kindness when it is needed rather than criticism that would be more of what the situation would call for.

Our self-control.

Our self-discipline.”

MARCH 1, 1988

“FORGIVENESS”

“Forgiveness is an important part in so many areas of our life. There are many times forgiveness changes family relationships, friendships, giving everyone involved a fresh start.

When we act wrongly toward someone else it is oftentimes difficult to ask for forgiveness, but a humble, forgiving attitude on the part of the person wronged can teach us an important lesson and right the relationship, allowing the relationship to become stronger. If we, in hoping to be forgiven correct the wrong, it shows much strength in our values and standards, also strength in our character.

The Sacrament of Penance is a Sacrament of humility and a Sacrament that brings great peace to our mind, body and Soul because of the courage it many times takes to speak out loud the offenses we have committed, and in reality asking forgiveness for each of them. When the priest closes the door to where we kneel, it is so many times like a new beginning and there is always a feeling of hope and peace that sometimes is indescribable.

Forgiveness in each one's life is important. Apology is important. Extending understanding is important. Forgiveness is no stranger to God, so we should make forgiveness no stranger to our way of life."

MARCH 1, 1988

“PRAYER IS IMPORTANT”

“Do I pray?

How do I pray?

Do I know how to pray?

Is prayer part of my daily routine?

What do I consider as prayer?

Am I truly sincere when I pray?

There are different methods people use to pray. Each one of these must be respectful and done first to honor God, and then to speak one’s thoughts, having the Faith to believe that God truly understands all communication we have in our little way with Him.

Formal prayer has an important reason for it. It has been written for us to say in a specific way, to help develop our Faith, our hope, our love, encouraging our requests, and strengthen our belief that God Truly Exists and we are truly talking to Him.

Then there is the prayer when we talk to God through our own thoughts, telling Him things no one else can hear, asking Him things that perhaps we do not want others to know, or maybe just telling Him we love Him and want Him to help us love Him more.

Good charitable acts are a type of prayer, a method of prayer that we seldom recognize as prayer, but they are prayers of action, prayers that come from our heart to aid someone else, to encourage someone else, or to give something to someone else that makes them happy, or something they may desperately need.

Many people find a means of prayer in reading the Bible. Some find it in Spiritual books in which they feel direction is being given that will be good for them to follow, or to see how others have used their lives, their works, their actions, in a form of prayer special to them.

When we embrace prayer as a communication between God and ourselves, we use the time, God-given, to express how we feel about Him, how much we need Him, how we depend upon Him, how we love Him.”

MARCH 1, 1988

“NEVER A COMPETITIVE GOAL”

“Sainthood is not a Goal that warrants or encourages competition between people. It is available to everyone. All an individual has to do is to first recognize the Greatness of the Goal, then use his or her own decisions to accomplish the Goal, using the physical, mental and emotional attributes in striving to live a life of balance in all areas of personal commitment, mentally oriented to doing God’s Will according to His Ten Commandments, and emotionally stable to see the soundness of balance to all things.

Take your first step now to achieve this Goal, Sainthood. Remember, All Saints do not become known to the world, but then Sainthood is God’s Decision, not really man’s.”

MARCH 2, 1988

OF DORIAN GRAY?”

“On several occasions you were alerted to the scars and to the blemishes that sin leaves upon your Soul. Not being able to see the Soul physically, can reduce one’s feeling of reality in how one’s Soul can be the victim of all offenses against God, against one’s fellow being.

Awareness of right from wrong, good from evil, automatically must say that a decision in either way must affect some part of our being or we would not be so knowledgeable in the differences between right and wrong, good and evil.

Many of us so often strive for success, physical, mental, monetary, sometimes to the point where we almost totally orient our thinking and our actions on desiring fame and fortune for ourselves. This in itself is not wrong, but how it is attained, if it is attained by us, makes all the difference in the world to its moral or immoral acquisition.

As we look in a mirror we see ourselves as we appear to others. The mirror, like some pictures of ourselves, does not give us the full dimension of how we look, nor does it show what we think, how we think, our intentions, our decisions of right or wrong, good or evil.

Portrayed in a film that we are about to see, there is a moral to the story that should not be passed up or passed by as merely fictional, as just someone's imagination to create an entertaining money-making film. Granted, this picture of Dorian Gray exaggerates how a person can sin so greatly and show little or no effects to the naked eye, yet supposedly leaving the physical unscathed, untouched. In reality, sin many times shows in different ways, through the need for medication because of contacted diseases, in the obvious lack of moral actions, moral thinking, and in the fiendish practice of mental and physical abuse.

We must always remember that our physical takes on signs of time, signs of our habits, signs of our social likes and dislikes, signs of our moral code of ethics. Along with the changes in our physical thinking, actions, appearance, it would be wise to see how our physical life, in all it is, all it does, all it encounters, all it practices, affects a very Important Part of our being, our Soul. Our physical appearance is important to us, but we must never omit the importance that how we live physically projects the effects of our physical behavior to our Soul.

Picture in your mind the possible condition of your Soul now. Could you, in your Christian beliefs, in your Faith in God, in your knowledge of what the Purpose of life is, would you want God to see your ‘Soul’ in Its present condition, understanding that as He Is All Truth, All Justice, All Purity, would He have to decide the fate of your Soul be to spend time in Purgatory, or would He be forced to condemn you to Hell?

It is something to think about, and it is not something that should be ignored, because your physical life with your intellect, your will, and your ability to make decisions with your will, should substantiate any and all questions you might ever have, as to which decision would please God most, and which decision would protect your Soul from any scathing or blemishes.”

MARCH 2, 1988

“FACING REALITY”

“Many men who possessed the reputation as great leaders in certain areas of the world, our own included, in reality this appraisal of them was because of the false front they extended to the world, covering up what they were really all about.

It is always a shock to see adultery, bigotry, heresy, suddenly come forth to become known to the whole world, that a particular person lived a different life behind that false front that seemed to have so much appeal, humanly speaking, politically speaking, morally speaking.

To have compassion for these men because of their weakness shows not just understanding of weakness, but a weakness in one’s own moral code of ethics. To be considerate of their weakness radiates to one’s own values and strengths, indifference to God’s Ten Commandments, and that all people should uphold them. When we are so complacent about immorality it weakens us in a way that is difficult to explain, because to each person it would be a different facet of life that would be weakened.

Bigotry is seen and felt in so many countries in the world, even right here where we live. Some people justify bigotry because they are fighting for a cause. Whether the cause be justified or not, they find it important to them, perhaps because of background or environment, or even some religious beliefs. Bigotry in itself is sad, because it radiates so much self-righteousness and it is void, so many times, of human understanding, human dignity, human respect.

All through time we have been plagued by heresies. In reality, heresies are developed untruths, defying what is right, what is good, what is sound, what is spiritually acceptable to God.

In all generations of lineage there have been and there are now, practices, sometimes tradition, sometimes inherited ideas that are prone to what can be considered imbalance in one's thinking, actions, and ideas.

To be a Christian nowadays is important because Christianity has, in its very inception, given hope, understanding, true compassion, a positive goal, and a strong formula for life. As Christians, as Roman Catholic Christians, we are fortunate to be able to stand up and be counted for what we know has purpose to it, dignity in it, and God's Will as its goal."

MARCH 2, 1988

“COMMUNICATION”

“There are so many books on the market today that are personal stories, some considered great ways to lose weight, books on intimate relationships, and many books downright immoral.

What happened to good literature, historical novels that had substance, classic stories that revealed the lives of people in interesting settings, plus interesting dialogue, plus interesting backgrounds for the stories?

Today we have so much garbage in every field of writing. Subjects that are debasing to human life are accepted as ‘great’. Subjects of very little or no substance are big sellers.

What ever happened to reprints on the Lives of the Saints? Why is there so little on sound Spiritual instruction? Why is pornography acceptable to so many supposedly nice people?

The real answer is that society has accepted all the lowest forms of entertainment in all fields of humanism. The truth is, that most animals are cleaner living than people. What a terrible reality!

Television has so much to offer all people, but it is also draining people of the beautiful normal act of communication in families, between friends, and this is being replaced through television, by so much peeking into the immoral writings and acting them out, called 'entertainment'.

Entertainment should be an expression of a God-given talent, to express Gifts of acting, music, dancing, story telling, that lifts the human existence to reach a higher elevation to imitate or desire, and rise to attain it.

Somehow, somewhere, in some way, if Christians would all see the sacrilege to human dignity that is being forced down our throats, called 'entertainment', perhaps those who are making so much money off of immoral suggestive garbage, filled with deceit, adultery, slander, lies, stealing, would have to swing the pendulum or accept poverty.

The full meaning of God's Ten Commandments should be scattered to all corners of the earth. After all, if God's Ten Commandments had the power to exist for three thousand years, even though man made Them so concise, wouldn't it be logical that if They were to be expressed, taught and understood in Their fullest, people would have to change? After all, greed to get in on a good thing is innate in many people, but also, most people want to get in on a good thing.

What could be better than God's Ten Commandments awakening man to getting in on the unlimited means, meanings, connected to these Ten Commandments, allowing so many doors to open to broaden man's understanding of God's Purpose for life, God's Reasoning behind each Commandment, and how God Intended His Commandments to elevate man's mind, abilities, capabilities, to higher degrees of human understanding?"

MARCH 3, 1988

“CURIOSITY”

“Curiosity is innate in most people. It is logical to say all people are curious on different subjects, in different ways, at different times, and sometimes curiosity is aroused by something that might be amusing, academically interesting, religiously oriented. Curiosity is oftentimes aroused by enticing sales pitches; also, curiosity many times draws attention to people speaking on street corners, in parks, or when someone is using food as a come-on to interest people.

Curiosity has many opportunities and curiosity can be very dangerous. Many people never talk about what they are curious about, because in essence, they do not categorize things in this way.

Curiosity does not always show itself until a situation arises, a conversation introduces a subject that has some form of questioning in it, or interest in it. Scientists, engineers, artists, and many other talents, vocations, are stimulated by what they see, what they feel, what they understand, what they hope to develop, what they recognize, as inviting to their mental curiosity.

When people are overly curious about everything, they should be aware of whether they are seeking what is good for them, or what could be detrimental to them.

Curiosity is much a part of life, but most times it is also legally and morally out-of-bounds when it opens doors to someone's privacy, someone's personal life. We must look at all facets of our human abilities and capabilities, and be sure that we are aware of what is involved in everything we become involved in and with."

MARCH 4, 1988

“TRUTH IS ENDURING AND ENDEARING”

“As a member of The Society Of Saint John Vianney, I must understand that I have obligations to fulfill, because of my commitment for which the purpose of this Society Of Saint John Vianney was organized.

It is my duty to understand that it is important to be a Christian and that I, as a Roman Catholic Christian, must see the importance of my conduct, my code of ethics, and my example in how I act, react, speak, or have good reason when I do not speak.

As a Roman Catholic Christian, I must value the foundation of True Christianity, understanding it is based on Judaism.

Through centuries, the binding mechanism that stimulated, strengthened, supplied, instilled sound basic rules in Holy Mother Church, was and is called ‘tradition’. Sound tradition, when practiced properly, is postured to encourage unity of mind, body and Soul.

To be a Roman Catholic Christian says: I believe in God's Ten Commandments. I believe that The Son of God came to the earth for a Purpose beyond human ability, full human understanding. I believe that this Coming of Christ was the formal beginning of how God wanted mankind to live, not in the shadow of, but in the light of the logic in the Purpose of the physical life, to return one day to God the Soul that was instilled at the time of conception."

MARCH 7, 1988

“NOT ONLY GOD MAKES WIDOWS”

“Many married men have the tendency to use marriage as a convenience, as a necessity, as an excuse, or as a social obligation.

In reality, if one were to be able to see the real unity in certain marriages, many marriages would be considered a farce.

In timber country men wear hard hats because of the danger in their work. The danger referred to is called a ‘widow maker’, a falling branch. In every walk of life men do not actually wear hard hats, but their behavior patterns, their habits, their selfish actions, can be as deadly to a marriage as the falling branch in the forest. Widows are often thought about as only through the physical death of their husband. This is not so. It is important to see this subject for the reality it is, and how prevalent it is in all cultures.

Marriage is a state of unity, of sharing, of consideration, of doing things together, whether this be attending social obligations, taking care of the children, nursing the sick in the home, or helping with household chores.

It is always sad to see two people who have accepted the marriage vows, romantically accepting and openly professing their love for each other, their desire to be together 'until death do they part', but then suddenly one feels that certain responsibilities are totally the other one's to take care of, and that there is a separation in activities, obligations, responsibilities, to the point where the woman would many times be better off having the entitled title 'widow'.

As we go into the Ten Commandments, God did not say, 'Now, certain parts of These Commandments are meant for men and the other part for women.' Also, God did not say that one was a superior gender over the other. God's Ten Commandments gave the Rules for all men, women and children to live by and use as the Guidelines against offending Him, and each other.

So many times the vow of marriage is not seen for its full worth, full meaning, full responsibility, total obligation to the other person.

In the very basics of married life, God's Ten Commandments lay down the Rules against stealing, adultery, killing in the full sense of the word, the demeaning of the other person's name, position, title, importance to the relationship. Also, one person is not to covet, desire to the point of sinfulness, anyone outside that union, nor to covet or desire monetary measures so much, that others have, or to even top what others have, that the relationship between husband and wife is strained and becomes channeled in different directions.

Selfishness is a tremendous threat to marriage, to family life, to business associations and to social involvements. Selfishness is oftentimes the basic reason for the foundations of marriages to crumble. Suddenly there is nothing left to say. The vow of unity originally taken, now takes on a false imitation of what was truly said, in the manner it was meant to be."

MARCH 7, 1988

“LIVE AND LET LIVE”

“It should be followed up by ‘Don’t be so broad-minded in approving with and in, other people’s possible immorality.’

A common expression that can promote infidelity, bad example, and encourage immorality is ‘Live and let live.’ This can have great influence in determining that someone else’s behavior is only their business.

One’s own sense of morality should immediately be alerted to the many adverse things that could be accepted in what is wrong, what is sinful, because wrong and sinful is based on satan’s deceit in getting you to accept evil, letting you think that your generosity and judgment is the right stand to take. Actually, such broad-mindedness can be an entrapment for you, guiding you into falling into the briar patches, exactly where satan wanted you.

God’s Way is always sound common sense, sound values, sound standards. Satan, the imitator and the deceiver, is experienced at clouding the issue so that everything is not obvious, and he continuously distributes a smoke screen over the briar patches that in reality are the pitfalls to Hell.

When you think that you do not have the right to interfere with what another person is doing and your mind says 'Live and let live,' do not ignore your responsibility that never leaves you, and that is to speak out loud against being drawn into what is wrong, and your responsibility to stand up for what is right, through your example, and your courage to say 'No' if it involves you in any way. Also, remember to not commit a broad-minded attitude condoning or justifying immorality, even though it is the other person's decision to be made for himself or herself."

“SIN’S ONLY ALLY IS SATAN”

“Sins are not just mistakes. Sins are deliberate decisions, made with distinct reasoning, using one’s moral code of ethics with one’s own will.

Sins differ from mistakes because of the immorality intended, practiced, issued, or extended, offending God in one or more ways, against His Ten Commandments.

There are many categories in which sin is evident in human behavior, all of course, against God’s Ten Commandments. Some people, in committing sin, are the originators of the wrong. Some find great comfort and justification in being the victims of the wrong.

A sin, no matter how minute it may appear on the surface, leaves a scar or a blemish upon one’s Soul. If people could but relate to how a burn or some physical abuse to the body can leave scars or blemishes to be seen, or even unseen, then perhaps it would be a good practice to remember sin as leaving the Soul in an impure, abused state, not just in appearance, but in grave danger.

As the physical body sometimes becomes victimized by infection for some reason or other, it is always necessary to find some means to control or correct the infection. When the Soul is infected by sin, as Roman Catholic Christians, having been made aware of the Importance of the Soul to God, common sense would say, ‘I must correct the wrong for the good of my Soul.’

If we have a reputation of repetitive sins that have become a habit to us, we must see the deep scars that are continuously pleasing satan and displeasing God, because the truth of the Importance of our Soul should always be evident to all decisions we make, remembering that in our creation as a human being, we were made to the Image and Likeness of God, with intellect, a will, and as the custodian of a Special Sacred Gift from Him, a Part of Him, our Soul.”

“Illness Has No Age Preference, Nor Does Sin”

MARCH 8, 1988

“MASQUERADE BEARS QUESTIONING OF PURPOSE”

False Prophets	Some
Religious Fanatics	Some
Con Men and Women	Some
Cunningness	Some
Opportunists	Some

“Since time immemorial mankind has been inundated by false prophets, religious fanatics, con men and women, cunning men and women, opportunists, masquerading as having Divine Gifts, Divine Powers, Divine Intercession.

The obvious weakness in the foundation and structure of their improper instruction and emotional demonstration in their presence regarding God, does not relate solely to the real Purpose of and for life.

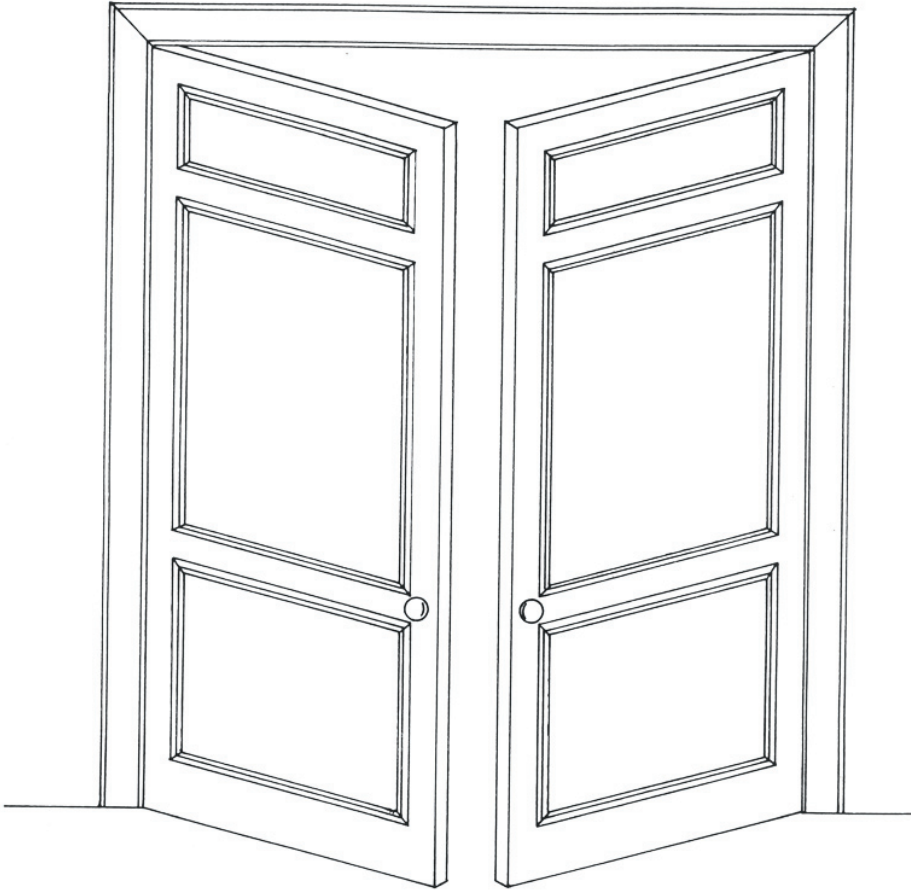

This masquerade proclaiming Divine Endowment is eventually evidenced by their greed, their lack of humility, and their humanistic need for attention.

The victims of such masquerading are oftentimes the innocent, whose blind Faith in searching for more about God, wanting to feel the personal link to Him, latch onto such fakery because it gives them what they think is physical hope combined with an emotional experience, which in reality has little substance.

Sound Spiritual Faith, Spiritual Hope, Spiritual Dignity, Spiritual Respect, Spiritual Honor, is not to be dramatized in this manner, because in reality there is a peace, a quiet, a serenity, and a Oneness with God that each individual has through their own Faith in Him, through their will in obedience to His Ten Commandments, and through their Soul that is a Part of Him.”

MARCH 11, 1988

“A RETREAT HAS MULTIPLE PURPOSES”

“A Retreat opens the doors to encourage us to think more deeply, more thoroughly, regarding our way of life, our attitude, our strategy in how we protect ourselves mentally, emotionally, physically and spiritually.

A Retreat gives us time to reconsider our motives, our challenges, our obstacles, and look at these things in a more orderly, constructive way.

It is necessary for each of us to not look at these things hypothetically, assuming and supposing that what is wrong in our life will suddenly change and correct itself.

The expression ‘burnt out’ has a very important statement in it, and we should heed the signs that present themselves before this tragedy to our mental, emotional, physical and Spiritual health occurs.

A Retreat to gain Spiritual strength has a particular purpose, in that a Retreat supports any effort we innately have to grow closer to God, deeper in our Faith in Him, stronger in our way to Him, and better able to defend how we feel about Him, against the enemy of all that is right, all that is pure, all that is just: satan.”

“TRUST”

“So many times we put great emphasis on trust, in our relationships with our family, our friends, some people with whom we work, banking institutions, doctors, lawyers, teachers, and people we deal with in various areas of life.

Trust is important because in it we feel the security of commitment, honesty, dependence, and truth.

Trust is important in and to our Spiritual beliefs, understanding the goals. Trust in God is innate in most people, but sometimes there is a different understanding regarding the terminology in how God is expressed in different cultures, different religions, different beliefs.

As Roman Catholics, our Christian structure is based on God’s Ten Commandments, and the Birth, the Teachings, the Death and the Ascension of Jesus Christ. As Roman Catholics, through the tradition handed down through time, even though much of the tradition has been altered, even watered down, the strength of its beginning, the power in the purpose of Christianity remains solid in its existence, and gives strength to the foundation of the True Existence of God, and the Purpose for which we are all born. Without Trust in this sound Christian structure, we could get lost in the confusion of misinformed, misguided, self-made critics and counselors.

Our trust should be well-protected in every area by our ensuring its rightful place, through our sense of logic, our questioning areas that do not have solid background, or we do not understand thoroughly.

Trust is a precious item that can be easily abused by those who are unethical in theory, hypocritical in their example and practices, deceitful, placaters, immoral in thoughts, words, actions and intentions, or even through people who can be considered as leeches on another person's knowledge or monetary holdings."

“DO YOU ONLY MAKE WISHES?”

“How many times in your life have you found yourself saying, ‘I wish,’ followed by numerous hopes, dreams, desires, even needs?”

Some people spend their whole life wishing and never doing anything to fulfill the wish themselves, constantly depending upon someone or something to make the wish come true.

A wish in itself has no substance. A wish that has no foundation of activity, or possibility of activity, is a waste of time. It is like wishing on a star that is billions of miles away. To wish is not wrong, but it is wrong to just desire something, hope for it, and do nothing to accomplish it or attain it.

So many times people say, ‘I wish I could go to school.’ If they tried, they very probably could. Sometimes people say, ‘I wish I could change jobs.’ They probably could, but they are too lazy to make the effort, too afraid to take the chance. Some people wish they could become popular. They could; it takes effort and giving of one's self, hopefully for the right purpose.

If at this moment you realized how important it would be to attain the Goal of Sainthood, would you just wish for it, or would you work for it?"

“RESPONSIBILITY”

“A privilege, plus it has many pluses to it, because if the responsibility is structured to good, or for the betterment of people or situations, then responsibility gives purpose to our life, for which we should be thankful.

A plus is definitely the mental and physical motivation that keeps us alert, active, involved, interested, interesting.

The challenge in responsibility is not always comfortable or endearing, but it does give strength to our very existence.”

MARCH 12, 1988

“SOUND LOGIC HAS SOUND RESULTS”

“So many people, all ages, feel they should be involved with the upbeat thinking, or they will drown in boredom or lonesomeness.

We should set our own lifestyle according to our understanding of what is important to our whole life. First, the protection of our morals and the realistic understanding that this life has Purpose, and we must not jeopardize its Goal for any immoral foolishness, or allow anyone else’s way of life to be our example for our way of life.

Our will is our decision maker, and because of the final decisions of our will, is how God’s Will, will determine which Castle in Heaven we are aimed at, and eventually gain for our own Soul.

This is not myth, it is fact, so only a fool would not see the importance of standing up for, fighting for, and being example of, Sound Moral Values, Sound Moral Standards.”

MARCH 12, 1988

“WATCH OUT FOR IMPOSTORS”

“Many people shop around for a comfortable form of religious practice; that is, one that suits their fancy. Many times these people walk into an area of severe moral and psychological danger.

It is difficult for some people to separate what is logically sound spiritually, from what could be dangerously harmful to one’s physical health, and many times causing lasting mental disturbance by being brainwashed into accepting a fanatical, unrealistic submissiveness to wrong leadership, plus being exposed to a form of Spiritual ritual and/or Spiritual submissiveness that is basically humanistic, even to the point of playing games with people’s sanity.”

“HUMOR”

“Humor has many disguises. Some are to get attention, some are to diminish the importance of a person or situation, some are to get a point across, some are to belittle a person or situation, some are to cover a statement that is uncomfortable for more discussion, some are to draw out another person or person’s values, standards, or weaknesses.

Humor can be a deadly weapon by some people in authority. It can reek with sarcasm. We like to think of humor as engaging in something happy, light, airy, stimulating, relieving a moment or time of pressure in one’s life. This is not always the fact behind humor.

The expression, ‘Don’t ever lose your sense of humor,’ has a good meaning to it and it has value to it, because humor, when it is in its correct vein of delivery, has an automatic mechanism to release tension to make a situation less frightening, and it can encourage hope.”

“INFECTION IS DIFFICULT TO LIVE WITH”

“As Roman Catholics we rarely hear anything about exorcism. This is a subject we must not hide under the carpet because it is a very real situation that creates a real purpose for exorcism to be exercised.

Granted, the ugliness of exorcism has a tremendous amount of danger in it, and because of this inevitable danger, it is logical to not want to even bring the subject up.

Exorcism can be compared to an ugly boil, festering with infection that must be relieved because of the toll it takes on one’s body, due to the seriousness that goes with such infection. It must be first drained of the pus. This does not relieve the pain and soreness to the body until the ‘core’ of the boil is removed. So it is with possession of evil in one’s mind and body.

Not all immorality can be regarded as needing an exorcism performed, because immorality is many times an individual's choice of conduct in his or her way of life, and it is based on the individual's will as to whether or not the immorality will be replaced by morality. In this particular instance, when it is the individual's decision, it seems so simple for the individual to realize that what they are doing, how they are thinking, how they are living, is their personal choice, and that it is offensive to God.

Also, the very existence of God's Ten Commandments should be what is brought to light, and common intelligence, common sense would say: 'I am offending God, I must change. I am also forfeiting the opportunity for the Purpose I was created.'

In reading the above you might say, 'No one is going to look at it this way if they are so deep in sin and feel they are enjoying life as they are living it in this way.' Truer words were never spoken, but as Roman Catholic Christians it is our duty, our responsibility, through our example, to openly express the reminder of God's Ten Commandments, and be relentless in using the Sacramentals available to us in our home, in our workplace, in our speech, not in a fanatical way, not in a derogatory way, not in an imposing way, but in an open expression of what we believe in for ourselves.

There are many ways to hint without offending anyone. There are many choices, when in the company of others, to choose what you know is morally sound and correct for yourself, always remembering that actions speak louder than words.

Who knows how many boils you could be averting.”

MARCH 14, 1988

“CRUSADE MEANS PEACE THROUGH WAR”

“It is important to recognize what it means to be a warrior for the Salvation of one’s own Soul. Historically there have been crusades, fighting for a religious cause. Today the staunch orthodox Roman Catholics are involved in a crusade against the onslaught of humanistic, liberal freethinkers in Holy Mother Church who are bent on watering down the Dignity of Holy Mother Church and the Importance of the Sacraments in Holy Mother Church.

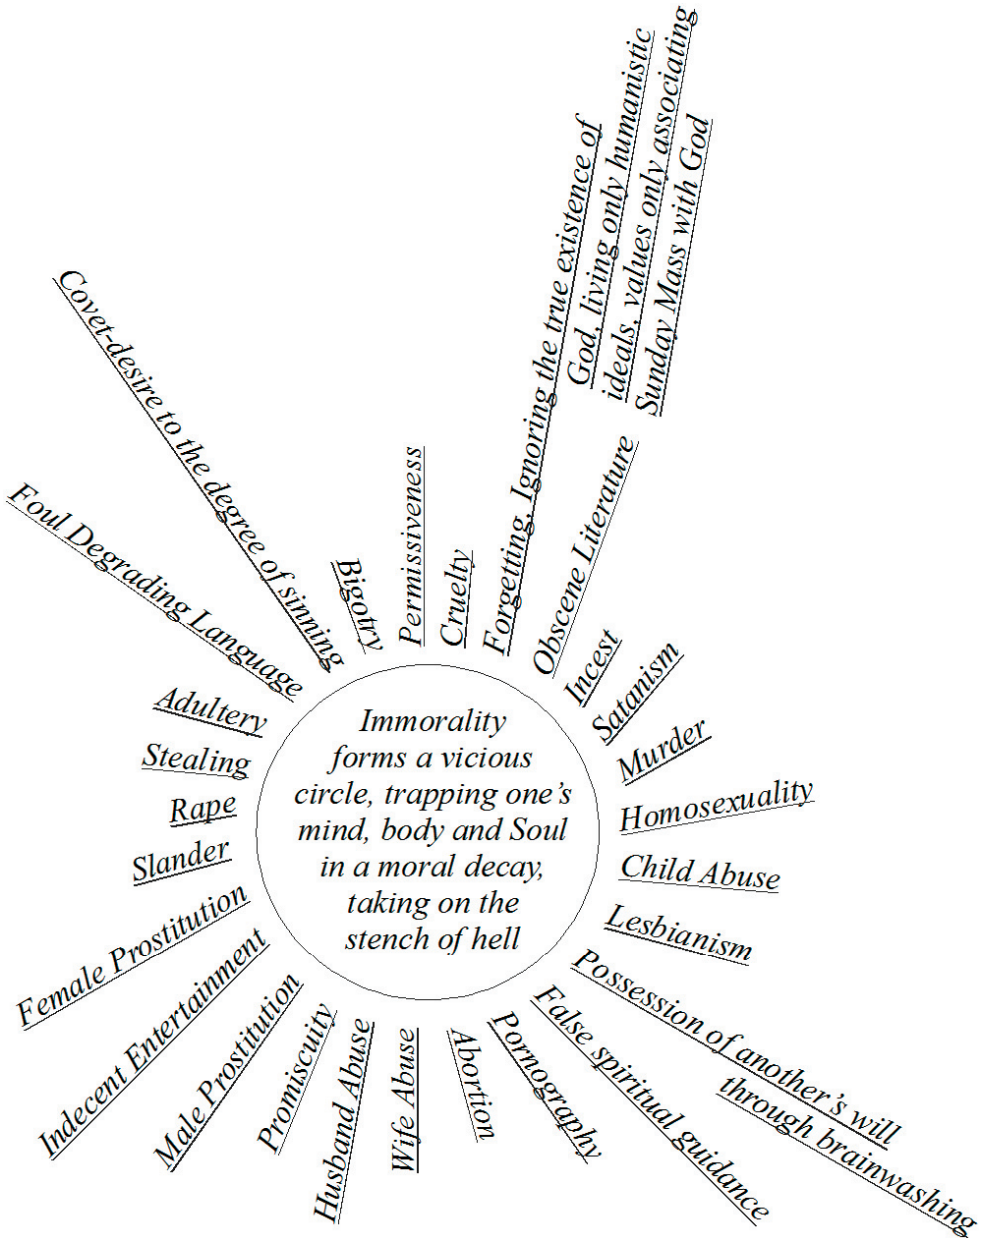

So much integration of diabolical belittling has been sifted through, not because of weakness in the orthodox staunch Roman Catholic, but because of their innate respect for Holy Mother Church and all that It stands for.

In trying to destroy Holy Mother Church, satan attacked the foundation, and for every weak section of the foundation satan used a distraction of all humanistic evaluations, so that the crumbling of the foundation would not be evident until it was too late.

IT IS NOT TOO LATE, because Holy Mother Church, the One True Christian Church, has enough solid thinking, logical minded, orthodox Roman Catholics to not just form a line of defense against satan, but to fight for the cause, to reinstate a unity of dignity, respect, honor, and emotional stability, using these things to stabilize the foundation to how It was first established.”

“IMMORALITY FORMS A VICIOUS CIRCLE TRAPPING ONE’S MIND, BODY AND SOUL
IN A MORAL DECAY
TAKING ON THE STENCH OF HELL.”

“Ask yourself, ‘Do I live in such a plasticized world that I am insensitive to decency, moral obligations, moral responsibilities, moral dignity, moral ethics?’

Think before you say, ‘Not me,’ and not until you look interiorly to your habits, conduct, example, beliefs, disbeliefs, intentions, and your understanding of how you follow God’s Ten Commandments.

Life is not a daily spin on a wheel of luck. It is a living experience one moment at a time, using all we are mentally, physically, spiritually, to make each day successful in some degree of fulfillment for our mind, body and Soul.

A sound moral attitude, behavior, and conduct, encourages and stimulates a happier security in everyday living, because it eliminates the unfaithfulness, untruths, impurities, confusion, caused by sordid intentions and actions, which cause an inner unhappiness which only escalates to more ill-doing, because impurity creates a monumental struggle involving deceit and sordid actions, which are totally opposite from goodness, honesty, sincerity, truth, and pure thoughts, words and actions.

Immorality bears a stigma that encourages and binds evil to more evil.

Morality has a freedom, innocence and clarity that radiates hope and happiness.

God's Ten Commandments are more than just Rules to live by, They are the ultimate code of ethics, code of honor, code of physical behavior and safety, code of Spiritual life, that each of us has to reach Eternal Happiness."

MARCH 18, 1988

“THE SACRAMENT OF PENANCE MUST NEVER BE ABANDONED”

“We must look at sin in its realistic adverse effect on our whole being and our whole existence.

We must recognize and understand that because sinning can appear to become a pleasurable habit, it is basically based on a lack of respect for human dignity, human purpose, and only acts to please the enemy of God and the enemy of all mankind.

As we are instinctively afraid of physical infection, in reality moral infection is more deadly.

Committing a sin should stimulate more concern in our conscience and our moral behavior than the courage it takes to confess the sin.

When we confess our sins thoroughly and with true sorrow for offending God, and in most cases, offending in some way a fellow human being, there is an automatic feeling of relief to the mind, the body and the Soul.

Confessing our sins actually makes us think more deeply on the seriousness of our behavior, and alerts our conscience to the need for some change in our conduct, in our behavior, in our attitude, in our friends, in our weaknesses.

In confessing our sins, hopefully it will make us realize what effect indecency, selfishness, self-love, ego, had on our moral values, and the devastating effect it had on our Soul and other people's Souls with whom we were possibly involved."

MARCH 18, 1988

“A STAFF DESIGNED BY GOD SHOULD NEVER BE DISCARDED”

“We must not allow the confusion we feel and are subject to in Holy Mother Church to disillusion us, confuse us to the point that we would grow weaker in our stability regarding our Faith in God, the necessity for which He instituted Holy Mother Church for our benefit, for our having a staff of Spiritual strength to guide us every step of the way, to become a Saint.”

MARCH 19, 1988

“THE ULTIMATE GIFT OF DIVINE LOVE IS INDESTRUCTIBLE”

“Christ’s Purpose was to institute Christianity, and in doing this He began, at an early age, to instruct, to teach, to direct learned people, illiterate people, people of all walks of life, the Importance of the physical life and that there was a Spiritual Goal higher than the physical life that gave Purpose to the creation of mankind.

As Christ walked men gathered, because they felt He had a Message that was not just interesting, but a Message that gave a purpose beyond human ability, beyond human understanding, because death seemed to be the final act of life, so to hear that God had a Greater Purpose, a Greater Life awaiting, did not just interest the men, but they hungrily clung to learn more about God, more about life, and more in how to become a Part of this Eternal Life that was introduced by Christ to them.

Bible History gives the accounting of Christ's time on earth and how He traveled with the men, eventually teaching to thousands of people about the Kingdom of God.

Christ's Death on The Cross proved the weaknesses and the evil in the world, and that His Goodness became the Victim of the weaknesses of evil men, because what He taught they were incapable of understanding, due to their self-love, power over others, and their immoral way of life.

History says a man sold Christ for thirty pieces of silver. History tells us one He loved very much denied Him three times out of fear for his own life.

There is no doubt that there is more to this transaction of monies, and times of weaknesses with Peter, but then no one was taking written notes at that time, so we must accept the order of things as we have read them to be.

As Christians we understand that Peter was named as the one to follow in Christ's Footsteps as the leader. Perhaps in the archives somewhere there is something written that has never been released, regarding the format Peter followed, the administrative action Peter took to conduct and hold his band of men together. It is our understanding that Peter was crucified upside down.

Since Peter's death, the change of leadership and the developed organization in the Roman Catholic Church is not all too clear to those of us who follow Roman Catholicism. We are aware that there is some information available to us, not too definitive regarding each Pope, but highlights written by someone who used their ability to capture what would be historically interesting and acceptable in years to come.

It is obvious that the men who followed through from the time of Peter were men of all different areas of life, certainly not all considered men of Christ's Caliber; in fact, it would be safe to say, 'Not one.'

Because the Popes to follow were in a position of organization, administration, they set down rules, laws, to govern what they were in charge of, and it has been said that some of these men fought on the battlefield along with being the Spiritual leader in Holy Mother Church.

It is also a fact that the Hierarchy of Holy Mother Church, through time, were involved with titled personages because of the status of some people and because such status demanded attention and patronage.

All through time, at particular times, a new form or reason for a particular type of Spiritual practice would be introduced. It would be very enlightening if Roman Catholics were taught when and who introduced these forms of Spiritual rules or ideas.

We must not forget a very important factor regarding the multiple changes in Holy Mother Church since the time of Peter. Each man, not always the Pope, but someone such as a Cardinal or Bishop found that changes in administration were inevitable because of the times, some needs, and some personal opinions. Some of the changes had great impact on what the body of the Church was to follow, coming down to the people as 'Gospel truth'. In some ways we could call this 'a type of brainwashing'. That Statement may sound harsh, but dominance has been the stronghold for the Hierarchy in Holy Mother Church to hold together what was good, but also, what was sheer control.

None of us here were Roman Catholics a hundred years ago. Each of us entered the Church at a different time, some born into it because of our family heritage, and some of us at a later time in our life.

By the time we entered the formalities of Holy Mother Church, we were indoctrinated into certain procedures, practices, and even if we didn't understand them or agree with them, we automatically accepted all things in Faith, because we truly believed that what was going on came from an impeccable background, and innocently related it all back to Christ.

Actually, the Real Spiritual Strength in Holy Mother Church is The Blessed Sacrament, for without This, man could not have had the physical, moral, or Spiritual strength to hold so steadfastly to the millions of Roman Catholics by their power or knowledge alone.

Roman Catholics, through time, have clung to Holy Mass because of an innate love for what the Mass presented, represented, in spite of who the man was as the celebrant, what his personality was as a human being; and even when his reasoning was not acceptable, people clung to What they knew was Greater than any human being's ability or representation.

Granted, through time we have had great men and great women in Holy Mother Church whose Faith in God gave much inspiration to countless people because of the manner of their teaching, what they taught, or their example in their exemplary way of life.

Roman Catholics have been blessed by God in many different ways, first by the survival of Holy Mother Church in spite of all the wrong that occurred by the men in Holy Mother Church. The Institution that Christ instituted is indestructible.

The time will come when there is no doubt that Holy Mother Church will be re-established and find, through God's Light, what must be corrected, what must be cast aside, what must be analyzed for its worth or its lack of worth, and God will once again be the Focal Point instead of so much emphasis being put on humanism.”

MARCH 19, 1988

“HOW DOES SIN ATTRACT US?”

“Sin is mainly triggered through our mind, our sight, our touch, our smell, and probably the least amount of times, through our taste.

Sin is magnified by our imagination, then our intentions, and finally, our decision in what we choose to do. Sin can actually feel like a normal necessity to us, imbedded in our being, and that we have no choice to think otherwise, to do otherwise or to feel otherwise.

To our knowledge it has been three thousand years since God Himself passed on to mankind what He felt were grievous offenses against Him, and in His Delivery to Moses, elaborated upon these offenses that covered more than the few interpretations, conciseness we now have in what we learn as the Ten Commandments.

History tells us that sin was part of every generation through time. We are told we must not sin. Many times sin is condoned because it is accepted as customary or part of the way of life during a given time, a given period, a given decade of years. This, of course, is ridiculous in its concept. If sin was wrong three thousand years ago, time, circumstances, culture, cannot dignify sin for some weak reason.

It is sad in any decade of time when people ignore the dignity in which God created human beings, and how, in His Love for mankind He sent a Part of Himself, His Son (a terminology people in that time and now in our time could and can relate to) to the earth to teach in the manner He taught.

Christ taught about God, the Kingdom of Heaven, the importance of living a life of understanding the Reality of God's Existence, and that God had a Great Purpose for the creation of man. Christ did not come and say, 'I am God, I am your Creator,' but He did say that this life upon earth was but the beginning of a Greater Life, and He did say how important it was to live this life upon earth for the Purpose God intended it to be: to one day be with Him for All Eternity.

We must also remember, Christ fought satan in many ways, many times, to show that there was an enemy lurking around every corner, in every place, to destroy the Purity that God had wanted mankind to see as a Part of Him that had to be recognized for Its Great Worth.”

MARCH 23, 1988

“THINK BEFORE YOU ACT”

“If someone hands you a key, it suggests something that could be good, or it could even be temptation to partake in something wrong.

It is basically easy to suggest or imply a moral act, a moral reaction, a moral suggestion. It is also possible that these things can cause temptation to an act of immorality.

We look at daily living in such an unrestricted avenue, in taking what occurs as merely normal, but if we based all we think, do and accept on God’s Ten Commandments, we would look for the possibility when a decision is necessary, that our decision could be a moral turn or an immoral turn at someone else’s suggestion or obvious words, and/or acts of temptation.

It is a known fact, no matter what there is to sell, many, many people will buy it, good or bad, ridiculous or worthwhile, important or unimportant, whether it is something they want or do not want, need or do not need.

All advertising is not done through paid advertisements. Much acceptance of items, ideas are influenced by wanting what someone else has, imitating what someone else does, or just not wanting to be left out on what appears to be new, or is appealing to partake in.

Pornography grew in wild varied dimensions, from subtle suggestiveness to its blown-up proportions, not because everybody saw it, but the mere suggestion of its availability caused inquisitiveness, curiosity, which were great developers of pornography.

Because people are so vulnerable to buying what they see or hear about, it has placed many people in bondage emotionally, physically, monetarily, morally, spiritually. This bondage is not one in which someone weighs all the moral decisions. Decisions appear and are made easy because of the availability of so much in so many areas.

With all the distractions caused by changes in the merchandising fields, which covers everything such as items of clothing, food, building materials, literature, all types of entertainment fields, and so on, with so few people understanding the responsibility each individual has as custodian of his or her own Soul, little thought is given to the absolute, full identity of a moral or immoral suggestion.

An alarm is ringing. Everyone can hear it. People throughout the world, bar none, are aware of what is right, what is wrong.

Since the time God gave Moses His Commandments, people have been alerted to a conscious understanding of what is morally correct and what is morally wrong. There are really no excuses that can justify immorality, injustice, whether it be for religious reasons or for political reasons, or for the judgmental reasons in any type of courtroom or authoritative position throughout the world, because the Existence of God is evident by the very fact that the sun comes up in the morning, the moon is seen at night, we have food, we have clothing, and most of all, we have the privilege of the responsibility of procreation, plus the ability to recognize that only a Supreme Being could have created all this and hold all things in their proper place.

The next time a decision is to be made on whether to do the right thing or the wrong thing, say to yourself, ‘If God is doing all the right things by keeping all things in their proper place, then I must remember that as the custodian of my Soul I, too, must keep my Soul’s present and future in the right place, in a state of purity, prepared to meet God on a moment’s notice.’”

MARCH 24, 1988

“CHARITY WEARS MANY FACES”

“Charity has many variables in its intentions. Sometimes a person is not totally conscious of the degree or the reason they perform charitable acts.

Sometimes someone becomes so involved in acting charitable for someone else’s needs, totally unaware that they themselves have a need in their own life, and through this act of charity this is one manner of satisfying some inner need they themselves have.

Many people are salaried employees, working for charitable organizations merely for monetary gain.

Some people do charitable acts to gain entrance into situations or people’s lives that they feel are stepping stones to some advantages, such as meeting people that might possibly be beneficial to them monetarily, or for introductions to other people.

Some people use charity to others because of a curiosity within themselves regarding how other people live, how other people solve their obstacles, problems and/or tragic events.

Real charity is done without any thought of one's self gaining anything from the time, the work, or the gift, money or otherwise, to help someone in need.

Few people see charity in its real concept of when it is needed, the reasons for which it is needed, and the beneficial results that particular types of charity produce.

Ask yourself:

'How do I look at Charity?

Do I respond when charity is needed?

How would I describe my acts of charity?'"

GIFT FROM GOD”

“Nothing on earth or no one lives forever. The process of aging is in itself a beautiful thing to understand, to experience, and to see the Hand of God in all areas of life. As human beings, at the moment of conception we begin the aging process, so do trees, animals and all living things.

Material products that build houses, automobiles, airplanes, are useful for a given time, and then in some form or other, are no longer fresh, clean, and bear no blemish.

History tells us that we had the age of dinosaurs and other large animals. We can only relate to these things through the writings of other people, the imagination of other people, and the findings of other people.

Today we are here together, and as each moment passes it is a moment of aging, but it is also a moment of growing closer to God’s Will through the use of our own intellect, our desire, our hope, and eventually through our will, to change what is wrong in our life, to uphold what is right, use what we have absorbed here, and then practice being example every moment of our life from now on.

The discovery that the world had to be round was proven by people with vision. Also, through their example, they passed on to thousands and thousands of people, information and knowledge, giving others the incentive to conquer what idealistic visions of discovery that their thinking made them feel would lead them to places unknown, unseen, undiscovered. These people eventually were written up in History, perhaps not all of them, but the outstanding ones, the ones who left the greatest impact, mark.

Everyone in this room has the opportunity to be remembered for some portion of life that each individual feels has challenge, worth, and individual ability to be example of, in, or by. This example is how one thinks, speaks, acts, works, teaches, directs, accepts responsibilities, expresses Spiritual hopes, drive, and ability to extend to others the importance of living a life dedicated to morality, observing God's Commandments, and expressing openly a sound code of ethics in moral behavior.

Each moment we live is a precious Gift from God because time is important to mankind, not measured in years, decades, but every moment of every day touches someone else's life in some way: a neighbor, a telephone call, a word, or an expression of politeness in a store, dignity in one's workplace, and of course, in unlimited ways.

A small prayer to God is never time wasted. A small act of kindness to another person is not time wasted. Gentleness, genteelness is never time wasted. A meaningful smile, a kind word, when it is properly done, for the correct reason, is never time wasted.

From now on, in the aging process, remember it as a time that is a privilege, a time that God desires for each of us to spend learning to love Him more, and using all we are to grow closer to Him because of that Portion of Him within us, our Soul."

MARCH 30, 1988

“SELF-RIGHTEOUSNESS AND/OR SELF-PITY
CAN BE FORMS OR SIGNALS OF SELF-DESTRUCTION”

“It is often difficult for many people to discern when deceit is evident, or if what is said or being done is morally sound, due to an inner conflict involving self-esteem.

Sometimes self-righteous people are so busy looking at the outward appearances of people and situations, using only their eyes, that they lean towards what they feel is beneficial to themselves, ignoring what could seriously affect their lives and/or the lives of others, in the physical, mental, or morally sound areas.

Self-pity lacks not just self-esteem, but in its very essence, it tends to magnify what everyone else has, what everyone else does, eliminating hope, and emphasizing a constant feeling and physical appearance of failure. Both of these are like quicksand, and in many ways, more deadly than any area wherein quicksand might possibly be.

Self-righteousness and self-pity can be compared to finding one's self in the Everglades, very little chance of survival."

“ACTIONS SPEAK LOUDER THAN WORDS”

“What inward strength drives a person to show a courageous spirit in the face of personal combat of physical, emotional, mental or Spiritual warfare?

Fear, being a natural instinct, must be considered. Cowardice is never to be ignored. Innate knowledge of a lack of physical strength is never omitted.

An act of courage is usually generated by a moral response to defend what is right. The instinct to protect what is good knows no limit. Courage is not a planned action. It is a reaction to what is wrong.”

“FEIGNING NAIVE UNDERSTANDING IS NOT THE SOLUTION”

“It is not always our innocence that avoids interpretation of what other people appear as, or what they say. Many times we blind ourselves to the words and phrases that should be recognized when they obviously appear in our social life, business dealings, religious affiliations, because we do not want to categorize our relationships with what can be termed an ‘ugly, dangerous situation’.

Sometimes words and phrases are not only spoken, but are obvious by how other people act through their morals, their code of ethics, their stability or instability, in their convictions, standards, degree of fairness, where they place their loyalties, and definitely their decisions on sound moral values and sound moral standards.

Our relationships with others should be scrutinized thoroughly for our own protection, because many people are subject to being two-faced, subjecting us to their insecurity, their low self-esteem, their ego, their desire to be liked and accepted, many times totally incapable of accepting and/or being honest about many things, and truthful in very few things.

We oftentimes ignore the fact that we are dealing with people who live with actions and words that can only be described as a double-edged sword, unwilling and/or incapable of seeing the true value of a person or given situation. Sometimes these people are very dangerous because they cannot be counted on for an honest, strong decision, which makes them poor risks for dependability.

It is not a nice, comfortable feeling when one is dealing with an obvious fence-sitter. A fence-sitter plays all ends to the middle, not just appearing incapable of a solid commitment to make a decision, but obviously unable to think for his or her own self, also unable to discuss intelligently for fear of being accused, or responsible for a decision.

A fence-sitter in a position of authority can be detrimental to sound progress, and to the credibility of persons, places or things.”

IS THE MOST UNDERSTANDABLE FORM OF TEACHING”

“Whose responsibility is it to teach, demonstrate, instruct, enforce, the importance and the insistence on human dignity in all areas of human life? Mine?”

It is evident that children are not being taught that human beings should respect themselves and each other. It is obvious in all areas of life that there is a moral decay signified by the vile contempt against a dignified attitude in most homes, in most schools, in most workplaces, and definitely, human dignity is a rarity in social gatherings and entertainment.

Vulgarity, crudeness, desecration to human life, so many times emphasized by the acceptance of distorted acts and actions related to intimacy by and between human beings, exploited by books, television, and all other forms of entertainment, is a violent, indescribable desecration to an individual's Soul and is degrading, demeaning, and a bold, disgusting attack on God's Purpose for human life.

Human decency, human respect is not dated by any legal code of ethics, but it is most certainly obviously erased through immoral human behavior because so many people thrive on hearing, on seeing, on feeling, the disgusting, distasteful, crude, vulgar actions, thoughts, and living habits that are so demeaning to the moral values that God commanded man to respect in His Commandments.

The first step to make people stop and think should be on exhibiting in all places, in schools, in homes and in workplaces, not just the brief wording of God's Commandments, but a more descriptive analysis of each Commandment, so that people will not take God's Commandments so literally and omit the full concept that each Commandment contained as He handed it to Moses.

WE ARE ALL TEACHERS EVERY DAY OF OUR LIFE. BE SURE THAT WHAT YOU TEACH IS BASED ON GOD'S COMMANDMENTS — HOW YOU TEACH BASED ON HOW CHRIST WOULD TEACH IT."

“HABITS — WORTHWHILE?
USELESS?”

“Many people brag about their habits. Their egotistical pride in having certain habits makes one wonder about these habits.

Habits can be good. Habits can be bad. Habits can be offensive. Habits can be forms of neglect. Habits can be usurping the time of someone else that could be productive if it wasn't for the inconsiderate habits of some people.

The habit of praying is a good habit. The habit of swearing is a bad habit. The habit of shouting is a revolting habit because it is disturbing to those who are present, especially the recipients of the language.

The habit of personal routine can make one more presentable, but if it always interferes with someone else's schedule, then it is inconsiderate.

One's pride in the habit of punctuality can be a show of egotism, because it could infer that everyone else falls into the category of always being late.

The eating habits of some people are forced on other people, and can cause physical problems to others.

The habit of taking medication and expounding on its credibility, forcefully recommending it because this individual feels their habit, recommended by them, is a positive cure or aid that the other person should accept without question. Nonsense; it might be detrimental in many ways.

Some people have good study habits. Some people have poor study habits. Some people have good hygiene habits and others do not even understand what it means to have good hygiene habits.

Habits are self-choices with one's likes and dislikes, and/or environmental conditions.

Habits can express insensitivity to others in its broadest form.

Some people have the habit of lying. Some people are called 'kleptomaniacs'. Some people try desperately to force others into work habits, social habits that are totally different than the likes of the person being pushed into a form of doing some things, or something that is totally against their moral values, moral standards, code of ethics, or personal abilities.

Make your habits your personal way of life and don't force them on others."

“TRUTH IS EVERLASTING”

“Can an apple grow without a core? Can a tree grow without the proper seed? Can a human being be conceived without the proper formula for life?

If our food needs a particular, specific formula to guarantee its growth; if trees, flowers, need specific seeds to attain their individual growth, and human beings are conceived with a formula designed by God for the procreation of more human beings, then how can seasoned priests accept the displacement in Holy Mother Church, of the ‘Core of Holy Mother Church, The Tabernacle’?

Many of the men in Holy Mother Church are obviously ignoring or not facing the reality of what the Core of Holy Mother Church is structured around.

Common sense says that all of the building structures that house the Core of Holy Mother Church are but an accumulation of buildings, giving shelter to Roman Catholics who go to the shelter to be in the Presence of the Beloved Tabernacle that Roman Catholics truly believe houses the Core of the Church, God Himself.

If Roman Catholics did not believe this, what purpose would there be to respect, honor, dignity, proper dress code, and what could give mankind a sense of being drawn to a mere building if there was not Someone, Something Special present in the building?

What or who is responsible for such a desecration to the Core of the Church? First of all, by moving The Tabernacle in a secondary, or even hidden place in Holy Mother Church, emphasizes humanism, a relationship between the priest and the people, eliminating the real reason, and for the structure to even have been built. So many men in the Church are advocating humanism to the point where handing the Beloved Blessed Sacrament to the layman's hand immediately eliminates the Sacredness that the priest feels toward this Sacrifice of Divine Love, this Sacrament that should be held in the highest respect for not what It symbolizes, but for What It truly was promised to be.

Men and women talk about the separation of church and state. This subject immediately brings to mind a more extensive explanation regarding the separation of church and state, and it should be explained to the people so that Roman Catholics do not depend totally upon vague statements, but are informed so they can be true shepherds, rather than just sheep. Sometimes interpretation down through time has lost much of its thoroughness because of language, culture, and differences in thinking, putting a lot of emphasis on calendar years that change things rather than abiding by the stability of what was originally meant.

The Basilica in Vatican City, with all its ornamentation, historical background, and its additional living quarters, security departments, offices, Chapels, bank, administrative protocol, porters (a position of high self-importance), secretaries, plus many rooms for meetings of different categories of people, are rarely seen by Roman Catholics visiting the Vatican. Not all Roman Catholics have access to the interior foundation that is guarded and guided by a select group of people who are not all spiritually oriented.

The innocence and trust of Roman Catholics is what most of the men in authority use for their own ambitious endeavors. This is not new in Holy Mother Church. Roman Catholics going to Rome do not see the inner workings of the Vatican. Faith in God and the innocent Faith that Holy Mother Church is run by men of integrity, dignity, honesty, sincerity, in some ways is disturbing, because the authorities in Holy Mother Church are not men of Saintliness or always interested in the Souls of the Mystical Body of Christ.

True, there have been many times in History that Holy Mother Church was on the verge of disaster because of the authorities restricted to men who had little integrity, and men who found their position meant more to them than what their vocation represented.

Today Roman Catholics must WAKE UP to the reality of the many fractures in the foundation of Holy Mother Church, not in the buildings, but in the authorities in all countries throughout the world.

Roman Catholics have an innate desire to ignore the broken, cracked, divided, split, that is recognizable by the differences from diocese to diocese, state to state, country to country.

Roman Catholics are being led into the briar patches where satan dwells with all his prickly evil traps. Once one is in these briar patches, it is difficult to free one's self of the punctures that immediately infect one's sound moral values and sound moral standards, to a point where submission is the easiest route.

As we look openly, honestly, logically, truthfully, unbiased, at the conditions in most dioceses in Holy Mother Church and in different areas of the Vatican, we cannot help but see that Holy Mother Church is shattered, broken into pieces, greatly disturbed, scattered in many areas, because of its dispersed conditions regarding the practice of the Sacraments, of not placing The Tabernacle in Its proper place as the Center, as the Focal Point upon which Roman Catholics depend upon the Presence of God in The Tabernacle.

Face it, satan is being befriended by many people in Holy Mother Church who are working together to try and destroy it. NO ONE, human or satanic, can ever destroy Holy Mother Church.

The sad note to this is that in this terrible time of dilemma, of weakness, of the fracturing and the shattering that is occurring, many Souls will become lost.

SOLUTION IS POSSIBLE. More Roman Catholics should be taught that humanism is but a limited form of physical life, expression and practice.

To become a Saint, to place the importance on one's Soul rather than going along with what is wrong in Holy Mother Church, is the turnabout that must be seen as the necessary action to restore, re-establish Holy Mother Church as Christ intended It to be, a place wherein and wherefrom human beings are to be instructed in the Purpose of and for life, the dignity for which life was created: to return to God the Soul."

MAY 18, 1988

“TIME MEANS SO MUCH MY SOUL SHOULD MEAN MORE.”

“As an active member of The Society Of The Little Way, what do I mean when I answer to a request for help, ‘I’ve done my share’? What do I base my share on: what I have seen or thought I have seen others do, in comparison to what I feel I have done or I do?

I should ask myself, ‘What is my commitment to: God, for the purpose for which the Society stands, or do I tend to balance my being a member in how everyone else determines their membership?’

The reason Holy Mother Church is so fractured and so shattered is because the men in the Church took the easy way out, putting humanism before Godliness. No greater example is present in our day than the turmoil, desecration, destruction, that men caused because they were not able, did not want to give time and effort beyond what they felt was necessary, because they felt they had done their share and were doing it.

Time is important to everyone. Home life is important. The Spiritual growth is of the utmost importance. All these things are combined in everyone's life, and the results show in our inner happiness, in our charity, in our understanding that none of these things have a straight wide line that flashes in front of us when we have supposedly done our share.

Life without work, without achievement, without sound moral values and sound moral standards, without charity, without hope, would be a life of despair, loneliness.

It is important that when we say, 'I've done my share,' we feel we know what we mean, and if we have done our share in one area, a wise person will seek out a constructive area so that time is not wasted, and that one's Soul is not put on hold until some kind of spirit, not always Holy, enters the picture.

Every day we should remember to thank God for giving us something worthwhile to work for and with, something not to separate our lives from our families and our workplaces, but to balance our lives, constantly reminding us that our example, our Spiritual works of mercy, plus some Corporal works of mercy, do not weaken our physical being nor do they put such stress on our mental, but for the most part, give life more meaning, purpose, and more understanding.

There is so much wasted time on unimportant things, on things that give no credence to Spiritual works of mercy or Corporal works of mercy. Nowhere does God say, nor did He say, 'You must not enjoy life,' but in His Goodness, in His Love for mankind, He gave mankind Christianity in its fullest form. As Christians we must be active Christians, not inactive. Inactivity is many times satan's opportunity to introduce a thought, an action, an idea, that appears harmless, intriguing, exciting, but in reality is not conducive to the growth, strength, purity of one's Soul.

If everyone in the world at this moment, could say or would say, 'I've done my share,' it would be best to say, 'Stop the world, I better get off.'

“LOYALTY ITS PLACE IN MY LIFE”

“What Commandments could be termed a Commandment based on a simple word, ‘loyalty’? As we look into History we find that loyalty was an important issue. It was almost referred to as an unwritten law that people depended upon, whether it be as a member of a different tribe of people or to a particular belief.

Loyalty seemed to be one of the outstanding characteristics of the Apostles. In spite of their background, in spite of their obligations, they found loyalty to Christ an innate necessity because of what they gained from being with Him, how they felt that what He taught was superior to anything they had ever heard or had before.

As we look at The Commandments of God realistically, logically, we find that loyalty enters into each one, loyalty of reason, of purpose, of logic, of necessity, and in many areas wherein we could be distracted from loyalty and the lack of loyalty arouses the wrongdoing to occur.

Loyalty has a definite aspect of respect in it. Loyalty has commitment, responsibility, dedication. Loyalty has purpose, understanding, obligation. As a Roman Catholic Christian we innately feel that we must have a loyalty to God above all things, through our obedience to His Commandments, and of course, loyalty to the Pope.

It is easy to be loyal to the Pope, perhaps because of distance and perhaps because of it being so ingrained in us that he walks in the footsteps of Peter, which we understand was the first man to truly walk in the Steps of Christ.

It is always a comforting, secure, idealistic feeling that as a Roman Catholic we have such a man as the Holy Father who, in essence, represents what we feel, what we have learned is the foundation, the stability, the strength that controls the whole of Holy Mother Church.

Most people have a need for a particular security that gives stability to everyday life, other than their innate belief in God, BUT we must, as Roman Catholics, look at the realistic infidelity that the authority in the ranks in Holy Mother Church oftentimes forces on the Mystical Body of Christ.

The very logic that is innate because of Christ's Purpose in the Formal Foundation of Christianity, can never be dislodged or dismissed from its proper place by any position of authority in Holy Mother Church. A certain amount of change is understandable, according to time and advancement in science, but no man has the right nor the power to place The Tabernacle, The Blessed Sacrament in a secondary or blind spot in any structure in Holy Mother Church. It is sacrilegious, it is desecration, and these men who lead such wrong are hypocrites and heretics.

How can a man justify putting Christ second to himself, when he should be understanding of Who the Core of the Church is, Who sponsored Holy Mother Church in the Formal Foundation of Christianity? How can any man say he believes in Christianity if he diminishes the Founder, and places the Founder in a position of unimportance, strictly symbolic, secondary to the prescribed formal ritual leading up to, enveloping, encircling the Highlight, the Important Part of Holy Mass?

When was the last sermon you heard on the Importance of your Soul?

When was the last time you were taught the Importance of God's Ten Commandments?

When was the last time it was expressed openly to you, the Importance, the Benefits, and the Reality of Holy Communion?

When was the last time a priest mentioned the proper protocol in church regarding humility and/or the proper dress code that should be followed in Holy Mother Church?

When was the last time the Importance of Holy Water was explained to you?

When was the last time you were encouraged to say the Rosary, make a Novena, go to a Mission?

When was the last time you were told the Importance of the difference between a mortal sin and a venial sin?

When was the last time you received a sermon on sound moral values, sound moral standards?

When was the last time you heard a sermon on the Spiritual works of mercy or the Corporal works of mercy?

When was the last time the Importance of Our Blessed Mother was expressed, encouraging you to honor Her, pray to Her, call upon Her, and say Her Rosary as often as you could?

When was the last time the Lives of The Saints were elaborated upon, to remind you of their love for God, dedication to what they believed in, and how they upheld Christianity under all obstacles?

When was the last time the Importance of the Sacraments was explained, and the dignity that is necessary when receiving the Sacraments; also, the protocol of respect that should be applied by both the celebrant and those present?

When was the last time you were encouraged to read about the Lives of The Saints, or encouraged to say formal prayers out of a particular prayer book?

When was the last time you heard about the Sacramentals in Holy Mother Church, what they mean, what they consist of, and the Importance of them?"

“Ask yourself:

What is my definition of loyalty?

How do I appraise my virtue of loyalty?

Am I loyal for attention?

Am I loyal for gratuities?

Am I loyal to appease my curiosity?

Am I loyal for my personal safety?

Am I loyal for my sincere commitment to a person, organization, or cause?

Do I recognize loyalty in others?

“MORAL DECAY IS DEADLY TO EVERYONE’S MIND, BODY AND SOUL”

“Through all time, especially since the time of Moses, when mankind falls into a state of moral decay, at the point where it becomes a normal way of life, rather than it being defined as an immoral, atrocious and/or execrable state of a common denominator, acceptable because of the emphasis on humanism rather than on God, and the importance of the dignity for which human life was created, there are some written indications that substantiate God’s Intervention to set things straight.

Naturally, logically and reasonably, not all things have been written indicating all the times that God intervened, but we do have some records that have been passed down through time to verify the Ever-Presence of God’s Love for mankind.

We are, and have been for some time, reticent to speak out against the evidence of extreme moral decay that is in some cases dehumanizing, and in other cases placing humanism above God, justifying its presence for many foolish reasons, none of which have much sound credence.

So many men's denial that the Teachings from Heaven, through The Miracle Of Saint Joseph, have credence to Them, is just another ploy to discourage people from seeing Truth, because of the Great Value of the Teachings, the Directions, the Explanations and the Revealings of Important Issues, Important Facts that would give people of all races, all colors, all creeds, not just a renewed Faith in God, but reestablish in men's, women's and children's life, a strength of Hope, a stronger Purpose for which they were born, and a clearer picture of why obedience to God's Commandments is so important to their daily life for the good of their mind, body and Soul.

So many people make great sacrifices to learn subjects of all kinds. God gives Direction, Hope, and detailed Information freely, lovingly, with no discrimination of gender, race, color or creed.

God's Commandments were in-depth when They were handed to Moses to be distributed, enforced. The Beauty of God's Way of doing things before He takes drastic actions to make things happen is that He, in His Love for mankind, in His Fairness, He hands the Information in the proper mode for the time of His Delivery, and then He gives mankind the chance to see the Value of what He wants mankind to recognize, change with the will He instilled in each human being at the moment of conception.

God's Justice is ever present in every generation of life. His respect for mankind is evidenced by all He has given mankind, to help all people understand that human life is a Gift of Divine Love, has a Special Purpose to it and for it, and is undeniably an Important part of creation that has a closeness to God that nothing else has.

We live in a time worse than Sodom and Gomorrah, and it has never been revealed, at least through the English language, the full degree of atrocities and/or execrable damage to the Souls of so many people in that devastating time.

For so many people, talk is easy; discussion on events, problems, situations, are subjects of conversation, but it ends there. Action, when it is to preserve what God wants, what innately man knows is God's Will, then this action can only be successful in its very essence.

It is time that people stop dehumanizing human beings, stop pressing the importance of humanism, and begin to exercise the first step to conquering the immoral decay that is so evident, and that is, to begin with one's own self, sound moral values, sound moral standards, and let no man, woman or child weaken the foundation for any excuse that might appear justifiable, but in reality fractures the foundation of morality so that it is weakened in the slightest way.

When we fracture something in our body, it hurts. When we fracture our moral values and moral standards, it hurts not only our physical and mental, but our Soul which is the Most Important Part of our whole existence.

Telling people to wake up doesn't always work until they themselves feel a panic button and they respond to what they feel interferes with their own life. It is sad it is not recognizable to so many people that all the garbage that immorality implants in one's mind, one's actions, one's Spiritual Being is toxic, and can be deadly to the Goal for Salvation of one's Soul."

“SUBLIMINAL DANGERS”

“The introduction of the so-called subliminal method of reaching the minds of mankind is not something new. It has been a system of reaching into the subconscious mind, supposedly in some cases to improve the mental attitude, correct fears, or to introduce a subject that would affect the subconscious to a subject of support. All subliminal messages are not good nor are they meant to be for the good of an individual or several people.

As I told you some time back, subliminal messages definitely have an effect on the subconscious, and in some concentrated areas of study on this, it is said that messages can be sent visually or verbally at the speed of one, one thousandth of a minute, which says that such speed is beyond the speed that the conscious is able or would be able to perceive.

Though this mind-changing tool in some cases was meant for good, it has been and is being used as a devious instrument to inject in people’s subconscious, wrong. In many ways it has been and is a tool of satan, used through the sound of words and music, written words, pictures, that neither the naked eye nor the conscious mind can discern as having seen it or having heard it.

There are so many areas in which, by which, through which, with which, human beings are being victimized because of the demonic use of a false interpretation that makes something wrong appear as crystal, and yet in reality there are so many facets to the crystal that the facets, in actuality, are fractures that can cause great harm when one does not look for the soundness but just accepts the small glitter that is deceiving.

The satanic warfare that is so prevalent throughout the world today is a multi-faceted disguise, plus, each disguise can be multiplied a thousand times a thousand, times a thousand times.

Faith in God is the most substantial reasoning, protection and hope that mankind has to win the war against satan. Strict obedience to God's Commandments is the armor that every individual, every race, color and creed has as a defense to fight the worst war that any man could conjure up.

Some people say, ‘This whole thing is so farfetched, things can’t be this bad.’ Ignorance is no excuse. Stability in one’s Faith in God, understanding that God had a Purpose for human life, and that human intellect, human will, human understanding, subconsciously or consciously, must see there was a Purpose for the creation of mankind. Granted, God is a Mystery, and in truth, in reality, we should thank Him for this Mystery every day of our life, because if God was not a Mystery, our littleness, our inability to psychologically stand the threat of obstacles, the threat of harm, the threat of knowing what is going to happen the next minute, would cause an imbalance in our physical, mental, emotional and Spiritual structure.

God’s Love for us, God’s Mercy, God’s Hope, and last but far from least, our dependence upon God’s Justice, gives us strength beyond human comprehension.

Subliminal intercession tends to inject, implant thoughts, ideas, intentions, obedience to a command to comply, without question, omitting the responsibility one has to put God Above All Things, and the Salvation of one's own Soul as the Ultimate Goal of life."

“LIFE IS NOT A GAME NOR SHOULD IT BE VICTIMIZED BY WEAKNESS”

“One of the most deadly, demeaning effects that many people use against other people, stems from egotism that uses several methods, measures and means to gain power, physical, mental, emotional or Spiritual, over one or more other people. Sometimes these power plays are not recognizable at first, because they are defined, executed and carried through a cover-up, a facade called ‘a game’. One of the most sought after now, and elaborately marketed, is Dungeons and Dragons. So many people involved in this satanic venture, are living in more than a fantasy world of winning a game for sport. It is more deadly than Russian Roulette, and of course, is not in this type of category, but to compare it with any so-called game, it can only be compared with satan’s extreme desire to conquer the will of another man or woman or child, so that he can be the custodian of the individual’s Soul.

There are power structures in business, some beneficial, some based on greed. There are power structures in religious circles, churches, not always for the benefit of the members or those who attend, but the dominance of obedience to what is spoken, basing the action of power over the other one's will, not understanding, not caring, the purpose for which a free will was given to mankind, and of course, in the long run, not really considering the will as the custodian of an individual's Soul.

It is so easy for so many people to justify their attitude, involvement and participation in using dominance to attain their goals.

A lot of money is being made out of the merchandising of pornography, illicit behavior, obscene books, and demonically oriented games of all kinds.

What happened to fear of God? What happened to God's Ten Commandments as the Rules to live by? What happened to 'Love thy neighbor as thyself'? What happened to decency as being the respectable way of life, the acceptable form of life?

It is so important for little children to be taught, instructed, encouraged to see the beauty of human life rather than all the seediness, vulgarity, crudeness, obscene humanism that is on the open market, generated through every type of merchandising, entertainment, and even allowed in so many homes.

Tearing these pages up will not make what you have just read go away. It is not the answer to destroying what is wrong. The real answer lies within one's self, and that is through what one speaks, how one acts, what one disagrees with, and what one openly accepts as acceptable to their way of life, ignoring, rejecting, and obviously abhorring the marketeers that are making millions off of filth.”

“IDEALISTIC MAY SOMETIMES BE IMPRACTICAL BUT IT IS WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD BECAUSE IT HAS A PARTICULAR STRENGTH OF DIRECTION”

“It is important for all people to become one in mind regarding the obvious tragedy throughout the world with the title of ‘moral decay’.

Respect, first for God, then for human relationships, morality, sound moral ideals, ethical practices, is almost nonexistent and should be tagged with a big question mark with the word ‘WHY?’

The emphasis on disloyalty, infidelity, irresponsibility, faithlessness, noncommittal relationships, inconsiderateness, incompassion, thrill-seeking immoral values and thrill-seeking immoral standards, disregarding totally God’s Will for all ages to reach for purity of mind, body and Soul, can only be based on demonic existence.

Why are not people afraid of the moral decay in every environment of human life, in every culture of human life, in every workplace of human life, in schools, in families, in friendships, in beliefs, in dress codes, in entertainment, and in physical desecration to one's own body and/or with another person's body?

Why are so many people so forgiving of the immoral blatant intentions, actions, and immoral judgments of so many people who sell God as their commodity?"

“So many times when Heaven speaks we take it for granted. We look at it in such a natural way. An Important Lesson seems to be flying by our eyes, our ears, our thoughts, and the Lesson is One that is to make us stop and think.

Lessons are difficult to give, especially when it concerns someone else’s Soul, because everyone approaches the belief and the Faith that they have a Soul in a different way.

Some people are innately good, down to the core of their body. Some people are innately selfish, to the core of their body. Some people are innately charitable, some are innately self-righteous, lustful.

Some people enjoy entertaining other people by bragging. Some people become ferocious if they are disagreed with.

In the Realm of God there is a great understanding, but there is much Direction also. It says it out loud: This is the way it is to be, for the good of your Soul.

It says it in a way you understand.

It says it quietly.

It says it somewhat loudly, but always simply, in a simple form that, to a wise man, could be termed 'profound'. Very often simplicity in a Lesson bears a profoundness that many people could not personally describe to another person.

In Heaven there is a Great Light, God's Light. Upon the earth there is a Great Light, the Light of Heaven reaching children, to teach them of their Soul, to teach them what is right, what is good, what is wrong, what they must see as detrimental to the fulfillment of reaching the Greater Light.

Man reads a book. He says, 'I loved that book, I enjoyed what it said.'

I, Saint Bartholomew, say: 'Was the book worth reading?'

Did it leave you with enlightenment for the betterment of your whole being?

Did the book instill in you a way and a means to grow closer to The Father, Who is The Creator of All Things?

Did the book take time? Was it worth the time, or did the book just please you, giving you fiction to think about, fantasy to make you think in ways that could not possibly be right for your whole being, the mental, the physical, your emotional or your Spiritual strength, life, goal?

Be aware, My sons, that as I speak through this instrument, I hand you, not a medal but a piece of paper, and on this paper it says you must think, so you are in control. Once you lose control you will be victimized by someone else, you will not be in Grace like The Father Wills.

I have spoken many times through This Great Miracle. Men, women and children have listened to My Words. I do not always announce My Name, for Each of Us Who speaks through This Great Miracle, has Permission from The Father, Direction from The Father to do so. We wait for Him. We do not do anything that is not His Will. He nods assent and then We use the instrument.

He decides the time, the place. He decides according to His Will.

You are not to overlook the Lesson of tonight. It has much meaning in It, and when you recognize the fullness that It has and is, you will find if you take one step at a time, the day might come that you can look at the rating and say, 'I know I have improved on this.' Don't pass It by as just a piece of paper. It was given to you because, My sons, there is a Heaven, there is a Hell, but always remember, it is God's Will that you return to Him the Soul. So be it."

SEPTEMBER 14, 1988

“When God hands a yoke to an individual, the yoke has many weights to it, many time periods to it, and the yoke, when it is first put on, is a yoke of wonderment and concern. And then, as the responsibilities deepen and the yoke becomes heavier, the one who has been handed the yoke feels the pressure of the yoke and the constant existence of the yoke. And even when there is laughter, happiness, and unusual times, the yoke is always present as a reminder that the joy of the moment is good for the human body, but the commitment, the dedication, the responsibility is always there.

As the yoke becomes heavier, sometimes a cry goes out, ‘Release the weight, God, make it lighter, no one’s listening.’ And sometimes there is no consolation; in fact, rarely is there consolation, because if the yoke were lightened at every complaint, a human being would use this every chance they could get, to lighten the yoke, lighten the weight. So God, in His Love for mankind, His Understanding for all of mankind, does not always respond as one would hope He would.

The 'Yoke of Atonement' is a yoke of Light, weight, and constant concern for the Souls of all people, not just those of us in the room, but for all people. We are an Organization with our home base that appears in the world as hilly land.

Christ walked similar land in His time, but the yoke He wore was totally different, for He was God. But when they strapped the Cross to Him, whether they strapped one piece or two, it was the weight of a tree that caused Him to fall to the ground, but it was more than that; it was the weight of mankind plus the tree.

The whole world shouts, 'We want a Miracle,' but all peoples in the world want a Miracle that cures all things, releases the weight of the yoke, and is a constant favor-giving, lifesaving act of love.

But in reality, if every time we cried, every time we shouted, 'It's too heavy,' and He would release the weight, we would never grow stronger. It would weaken us in every way, because many times when we have problems, concerns, delays, we fight harder to conquer the obstacles and we take another route sometimes to find a different way. But we must always remember that the decision, that thin line between right and wrong, is the width of a piece of thread.

My children, as I have spoken to you, I have spoken softly on this night because of the weight of the yoke. We cannot release the weight of the yoke, there is too much at stake for the whole world.

Be prepared in many ways to grow stronger as you carry your yoke, because We Here in the Heavens, when you pray, hear your prayers. We understand your needs, your problems, and We also understand your dilemma, but Our Words to you are simple: Face each day of life; do not worry about tomorrow. Wear your yoke with dignity, love and purpose, and as you do each day, whether it is on you visibly or not, wear it with dignity, respect, accepting your responsibilities, and knowing that as you perform your responsibilities, you grow stronger in all the ways of life, in all ways of spirituality. Your will becomes stronger because of your determination to conquer the obstacles.

You must understand that if all obstacles were erased from you, there would be no challenge and you would be weakened in many ways.

Your goal is to see that piece of thread as an obstacle, and remember this: Conquer all your weaknesses so you will be sure to stay on the right side of that thread. It can be done. There is no one present who cannot accomplish this act of Divine Will, Divine Love for your Soul.

You say, ‘Who is speaking?’ I smile at this, for you see, I am a Saint Who walked the earth a long time ago. I am Saint Anthony of Padua. So be it.”

NOTE: Previous to this Message there was an introduction defining how thin the line of decision is between good and evil, right and wrong. It can be compared many times to the width of a piece of thread.

“The word ‘silence’, the command for silence, the demand of silence, is in many ways to control what is happening: one’s anger, one’s emotions, one’s fears, one’s intentions.

Silence, to many people is difficult, for silence makes them think of themselves, of what is wrong, what they fear, and many other problems they might have that seem to multiply in silence rather than disappear.

Silence, to many people, allows time for prayer, for constructive thinking, for purposeful endeavors to be accomplished. Silence gives them tranquillity, peace, and in some ways they feel healthier when the mood surrounding them, the mode of life is silence prevailing in all things.

The world is not in a silent state. There are constant eruptions of violence, of hate. Anger flourishes for no reason sometimes. Men, women and children shout for popularity in all manners, no matter what moral code it states or dictates.

In sound morality, there is a particular silence even when it is active, for morality bespeaks clarity, peace, goodness, happiness, satisfaction.

Immorality, on the other hand, radiates turmoil, aggressiveness, self-love, self-importance, selfishness and all things that tend to dominate peace, silence, love, sincerity, hope, dignity and respect.

When man becomes a captive, a prisoner, silence is demanded by the captors because the captors do not want to be dominated by the prisoners.

This Message has much for all of mankind to think about, because in this time in which you live, to speak out against what is wrong is quickly silenced in many areas, because there is so much evil in the world, acting in desperate measures to allow only corruption of the mind, body and Soul to be the focal point of intention.

Goodness in many ways is not evident in many situations that under ordinary circumstances, when there was not so much evil in the world, there would have been less silence requested.

I will speak more on this subject. I am Saint Alphonsus Liguori.”

“JUST QUESTIONS, OR ARE THEY QUESTIONS FOR THOUGHT?”

“Why do so many people fantasize God, when there is so much evidence surrounding us that God has to exist, because we are surrounded by humanly impossible creations such as the entire Universe, and the very complex, yet logical Creation of mankind?

What has happened to properly placed Faith in God?

What has happened to morality based on God’s Commandments?

What place and to whom can people go to find sound direction to better understand about God, and how to use this understanding to benefit their lives in all ways?

Who is truly qualified to lead other people to understand the true value of Faith in The Supreme Being, and the way to grow more deeply aware of the Real Existence of God?

What makes people of different races depict God in so many ways, as there is but ONE GOD?

Is not the basis for sound moral values and sound moral standards, emanated from men, women and children choosing right over wrong, good over evil?

Is it not innate in man to know what is good over what is bad?

Is it not so, that moral decisions are based on the moral stability of one's own self-commitment to recognizing the obvious conscious feeling of well-being after the correct moral decision has been made?

The constant struggle of, in, and for existence is based on so many things. Evidences of mankind's fragile nature is oftentimes recognized through the lack of initiative, ambition, interest, imagination, foresight, logic, maturity, discernment that limits the abilities that some people are endowed with.

Man is capable of so many things, because man has been given the ability to use intelligence to the fullest capacity, according to the energies he or she desires to drive himself or herself, by using that precious Gift from God, the Will, that is in reality the decision maker that governs so much of life's progress, pleasures, happiness, talents, and of course, Faith in God, and practice of this Faith for the purpose for which it exists."

“Hope is one of the most stimulating factors in human life because hope generates activity, motivates the Gifts that each person has been endowed with by God.

Hope is encouragement because hope is like breathing life into unhappy or unfortunate circumstances, eliminating negativism and/or depression. When hope permeates our negativism, we find a feeling of well-being.

Hope is invigorating because hope always encourages one to act, to think, to perform, and to reach for positive answers.

Hope is such a small word, but in reality hope has a magnitude of reasoning, purpose, and always gives strength mentally, physically, emotionally and spiritually.

One must train himself or herself to recognize hope, because sometimes hope is subtle, but in its subtleness it encourages one to reach for success, for some type of enrichment to everyday living.

People who find themselves depressed, forget that hope is always present through exercising one's own power of the will, the decision maker, committing themselves to the practice of ignoring depression and using every source available to find strength in activity, and taking a positive stand to be productive, constructive, rather than to submit to negativism that can cause only depression."

APRIL 12, 1989

“Since the beginning of the introduction of the interpretations of Vatican II, we Roman Catholics have no one to blame for the numerous monumental problems, confictions, and even afflictions in Holy Mother Church, but ourselves. When I say ourselves, I mean those of us who are of an age that should have stood up to the so-called dictatorial changes, instead of allowing them to be enforced and put us in the submissive state of accepting what we innately knew was humanizing The Blessed Sacrament and diminishing Its Proper Place in Holy Mother Church.

Some of the clergy inwardly and outwardly fought against what they knew was not right interpretation and would lead to improper conclusions. It was obviously satan’s attack against the Beauty, the Richness, the Solemnity and the Dignity in which Holy Mother Church stood before the whole world.

Was it passiveness, false obedience, weakness, a lack of Faith on our part, we Roman Catholics who knew better, who should have stood up for what we knew was right? I sincerely feel we are to blame in many aspects of the demoralizing results that have become so rampant throughout Holy Mother Church.

Why did we not gather around the clergy who were fighting great odds to uphold what they instinctively knew was proper? We should have bombarded the churches with our presence, where these men were, and some are yet, to support the men who were what we call 'traditional' in Faith and morals.

Needless to say, the staunchness on our part was weakened by our submissiveness to the organizational authority of Holy Mother Church. We should have realized and acted against what was wrong, what was intimidating.

Because of Holy Mother Church's diminished unity, satan is actively moving throughout the world. It is obvious with all the immorality, desecrations and inhuman violations against what is good, what is proper, what is right, what is moral, what is dignified.

Every day desecrations are occurring and being allowed because people are passively accepting the times associated with such destruction, rather than verbally correcting, visibly fighting against all that is wrong.

Roman Catholicism was the most honored religion. Now it is the most ridiculed.

It is time, and we cannot feel it is too late to stand up for what we know has to be done. We already bear the scars of the battle in many, many ways. Now it is time to heal the scars and correct the wrong.

This is probably one of the greatest wars in History, and wars are made up of two sides: right and wrong, good and evil. We should not fear losing, because as long as we are on the side of God, and stand firm for the Dignity and Honor that must be upheld in His Name, we will conquer, we will win, and we will be able to one day say, through our united efforts it is obvious God is pleased, for it appears that He has cast satan once again back into Hell.”

“RESPECT”

“There are so many aspects to the very act of respect: respect in the home, respect at work, respect at school, respect to authority, respect from authority, respect by authority; respect when someone speaks, and then reacted upon with respect either in agreement or disagreement of what was spoken.

There are so many things that create disrespect: a lack of dignity, people who nag, people who criticize just because they do not agree or cannot see a viewpoint or a situation.

There’s another side to respect and that is when it falls into the category of false respect, diluted respect. Some people are experts at this. It often defines a lack of strength in one’s own will, one’s own moral values and moral standards.

There is so much tolerance of immorality that respect for human life, for any portion of human dignity, has not just been erased but totally eradicated from our society. Satan uses television, movies, social gatherings, facades of religion, religious beliefs, to demoralize, debase human respect, human dignity.

Everything says that demons are spread throughout the world. Basically it is a lack of respect for God, then a lack of respect for human life; satan works in all cultures. I sometimes wonder how some people cannot see nor feel the presence of some demon or many demons, when what is presented to them is obviously against God, against God's Commandments, against all that is good.

It is too bad that people do not have the ability to use the sense of smell to a greater degree, because the stench of Hell is more than burning flesh; it is beyond man's comprehension.

Perfume companies make millions of dollars because people are so inclined to enjoy what each one feels is a pleasant odor. If God, for one minute, would allow the world to smell what evil lurks in the world, many people would die because it is so vile.

God, in His Love for mankind, allows the will, the intelligence, the reality of moral values, moral standards, to make decisions. God is not a cruel God, He is a God that is Just. Satan is exactly opposite. With satan it is a vile contempt, hate, jealousy of what he can never have or be a part of.

Different countries are constantly having civil wars. We see men fighting other men. We see dictators standing back, well-protected, using a few words or a domineering, powerful look that encourages men to become violent toward other men of their own culture. We see the barbarism in it, but we should also see the barbarism in our own lives when satan attacks our morality, our dignity, our respect.

Soon we must wake up to realism and eradicate the fantasy that is so prevalent around us, in our homes, and some of which is in Holy Mother Church.

Where there is confusion there is indecision and there is no sound value or standard, because confusion shades a situation and very often permits compromise that weakens the whole situation.

Many people use the words, ‘Let’s compromise to settle this.’ Beware of compromise if it means giving up a certain portion of what you believe in, what you know is best, and accepting perhaps lesser values, lesser standards, to avoid, to evade further discussions, confrontations, or whatever the case may be.

As Roman Catholics we have used compromise in the name of respect, in the guise of respect. It is time that we stand up for sound standards, sound values, sound practices, sound protocol, solemnity and dignity in God’s House and in our own lives.

God gave us all sorts of ways to relax. Some people like boating, some like golf, some like tennis, some like swimming, some like all sorts of sports. Some people like to travel, meet new people, find a way to relax the mind, the body; but it can all be done morally.”

JUNE 13, 1989

“WAKE UP ROMAN CATHOLICS”

“Stop living in the past just because it seemed so comfortable. It had a lot of good but most of the wrong was hidden.

Our Faith in the real Existence of God and our responsibilities to Him are what we must guide our mental, physical, Spiritual growth, behavior and example by.

We don't live in the time of Moses, but He is a legend of sound direction.

We don't live in the time that Christ was, but He is the Foundation, Establishment of Organized Christianity that we are clinging to because it is so sound, so reasonable and has such beautiful purpose.

Men have always used institutional power for personal gain, strength and purpose, even in Moses' time and in Christ's time; also, through the changing of the guard in Holy Mother Church down to our time.

The Church is not God. The Church has too many imperfections to be God. We do not pray to the Church, we pray to God for the Church. The Church is a connecting link between God and man.

The Commandments are not God. They are God's Rules for all of mankind.

'It is our Faith, our strength, our example, our morals that will stand out and be imitated, if we base our lives on God's Commandments and sound ethics in our religious beliefs.'

Institutional power struggles are many times satanic infiltrated, even in Holy Mother Church.

We are the Church in that we are members of Holy Mother Church, and as members we have an obligation to protect all that is right in Holy Mother Church, all that is sound in the teachings, directions and the ceremonies that support what Christ intended Holy Mother Church to not just be like, but to be the instructor of sound religious beliefs, emphasizing our Soul and the Eternal Goal God intended for each of our lives, Sainthood.

We support the buildings for the clerics to reside and perform their duties. We have rights, but we have allowed our respect to weaken our position.

We must look at Holy Mother Church in the reality it is. There is no doubt that Holy Mother Church has a special place in God's Love for mankind.

The Truth in Holy Mother Church that stands out above all things in the Church is, of course, The Blessed Sacrament that is a Special Gift from God. This Special Gift emphasizes that we are created by God in His Image and Likeness, and though we share that Supernatural Portion of Him, our Soul, He has given us a Divine Gift of Love that we can see, we can partake in, and that inwardly gives strength physically, mentally and spiritually to our whole being.

We must put Holy Mother Church in the right perspective, for to hold the Church as God, it would say that we honor a false god, but in looking at the reality of how and why God designed a specific format for our benefit, says openly, simply, that we must recognize and respect Holy Mother Church, and always hold The Holy Eucharist above anything else in Holy Mother Church.

We should have a special respect for what Holy Mother Church stands for, for what It is responsible for, and for what It truly means, as an extension of Christ's time upon the earth, plus what He left for the Spiritual hope and growth in man's life.

In spite of any defects in translation and interpretations down through time, there is sound evidence of the innate strength one feels in the Presence of The Blessed Sacrament and in the reception of The Blessed Sacrament.

We must understand that the clergy, in dealing with each other, recognize the human natures, human flaws in personalities, causing so many to forget that their job is to generate love for God and to be example of all that is good, all that will give hope and strength to people of all races, colors, and creeds. Idealistic? Yes. Impossible? In many instances, yes; but nevertheless, what should have been and should be instilled, through education and experiences, down the line in the vocation of the Priesthood.

So many women and many men get confused in the admiration of the role of a priest. Some even feel intimidated by what his collar should represent: all that is good, pure, innocent, just and right. As a man, he has to work as hard as everyone else to achieve Sainthood, but as a priest, he has a special responsibility and privilege different than the privilege of other men. His is to act and speak in a specific way of belief, words, dignity, honor and solemnity, to Consecrate the bread and wine into The Body and Blood of Our Lord. The Act of Faith at this time of the Mass is beyond human understanding, but the inner desire, the innate feeling, knowing, that This is special and that the whole Mass up to this time is secondary to this moment of Truth, millions of people down through time could not have been fooled by the Act of God's Love, using a man to represent the Formal Ceremony for such a Gift of Divine Love, if it was merely man's idea to capture followers for only human satisfaction." “My Faith in God tells me there is a Purpose to my life and my Faith in God says I have hope. No matter what the obstacle is, I have hope.

OCTOBER 11, 1989

My Faith in God helps me to understand my fellowman. It also helps me tolerate my fellowman.

My Faith in God right now gives me the strength to understand logic, ethics, responsibility.

My Faith in God says I’m here for a Great Purpose. My Faith in God says that there is a right and a wrong to life. My Faith in God says there is an honesty and a dishonesty I am surrounded with.

My Faith in God says that the time in which I live was chosen for me by God, because in this time I was better able to use all I am so that one day I could become a Saint.

My Faith in God tells me that hardships can be conquered. My Faith in God says that truth must be spoken, honesty must be a constant way of life. Also, my Faith in God says: Stop the negativism and give hope, by expression, by appearance, by your actions, by what you do, what you say, what you feel, by example.

As we join each other tonight as an Organization, you are here because of your Faith. Sometimes we go to Mass only because of our Faith, not because we have a desire to go, or because it is the only thing in the world that we feel like doing at that moment. Most times it is our Soul that in Its own way reminds us of the Purpose of life and that God is waiting for each of us. When we go in, we are there alone with God. Even though there can be thousands of people present, He sees us all by ourself, that one little human being that He allowed to be created in the manner in which He designed Creation.

Each of us has a personality. Each of us has a nature. Each of us has a degree of Faith, some more than others; but sometimes someone has a very deep Faith within himself or herself, and the Faith is just between himself or herself and God. It's a living Faith devoted to wanting to know more about Him, wanting to get closer to Him.

Sometimes we find a point of desperation because there are so many distractions and we think we can't get close to God, there's just too many things to do, but by doing what is right, what is good, what is our responsibility, is getting close to God. Doing our chores, being with other people, participating, encouraging others to have hope, waiting to hear what they have to say, that's all in the Plan of God.

But you and I have a Great Blessing. We go to Church and our heart says that That is truly a Divine Gift from God, but this belief, this Grace, this association, this communication, this Oneness with God is because of our own individual Faith.

Now let's say next Saturday or Sunday none of us go to Mass, really don't feel like going to Mass; the priest has a very boring sermon. We sometimes base everything on the priest. We base everything on the time, we base everything on different things that are really meaningless. We should base it solely on one thing; not what the sermon is going to be, not what the homily is going to be, not who the priest is, but the very fact that we are going to be there because we have the Faith to believe that It is truly God in The Tabernacle, that It is truly God putting Himself in The Holy Eucharist, not the priest, but God puts Himself in The Holy Eucharist for you and I.”

DECEMBER 1, 1989

“We believe, through our Faith in God, that God is All-Powerful, that God is All Things. We believe that God is Perfection, Purity, Justice, Truth and Hope. We believe that God is The Creator of All Things. Logic tells us that no living human being can be compared to the Reality Of What God Must And Does Stand For And Is.”

“Decisions and the application of decisions depends upon the individual man’s, woman’s or child’s will. Decisions are based on one’s environment, background, personal motives, nature, personality, self-protection, ego, vanity, vocation, degree of maturity, degree of selfishness, self-love, mentality, ability to discern right from wrong, inner conflicts, emotions, motivation, initiative, monetary status, opinion, degree of self-esteem, insight, moral values, moral standards, honesty, Faith in A Supreme Being.”

JANUARY 3, 1990 AT 8:14 A.M.

“Man innately desires to be free. This comes from the manner, the Purpose and the Goal for which man was born to the world a human being, designed to be born in a form, in a manner of oneness, using the strength of his or her own will to struggle against, succeed against all the odds there could be at the time of birth.

This little form struggles, pushes, and on its own, knows in some unknown way it is time to begin life out of the womb. From that moment on, it is innate to be able to stand, walk, move, to have the freedom to speak on its own. This alone should say many things to the natural intelligence of every man and woman in the world.

If all mankind was born to be subject to another human’s mind, to another human’s desire, to another human’s control, it would not be a just world. The importance of the freedom of will is because of the attachment of the Soul to every human being born, or will be born in the world.

Restriction of any portion of the human body is difficult for the individual in many ways. It constricts the mind, some portions of the body or all portions of the body, and it restricts the will. It constricts the ability to think as an individual, act as an individual, perform as an individual.

In the world today, on the world today, there are so many wrong areas of thinking. Men and women are coming up with physical control, ideas and ideals, chemical controls, moral controls. This list is unending. To some who gain a small portion of power in position or in monetary measure, the only way they can feel strength in themselves is through the control of other human beings.

In the time Our Lord walked the earth, His Teachings, His Directions, His Concerns, His Comradeship was never dictatorship, never power over the wills of the individuals, but allowing the individual will to absorb, to expand upon, and to pass on to others through example and other manners of communication, What He had extended of Himself, through Himself, for the benefit of all mankind at that time and all time to come.

Many times men, women and children subject themselves to the control, ideas, ideals of others, because they are in places, in groups too difficult to fight against. The greatest strength in the world, the thing most valuable to mankind is the Gift of Faith in God, the ability to practice this Faith in respect, with dignity, never afraid to honor The Creator of All Things.

There is so much turmoil in the world today, as in many times past, but I say on this day that there is a greater force of satanism than in times past, even though there were many times this enemy of God and of man gained much ground, destroying Souls, destroying human life, not because of love but because of envy and hate; his control is based on ugliness.

There is no happiness, no joy in this terrible tragedy that has invaded mankind physically, mentally and spiritually. It is the exact opposite of any good. It is the exact opposite of hope; it is hopelessness.

I speak today, for sometimes small groups, just as in the time of The Holy Family, example, strength of conviction and Faith in God is the key to helping others see the advantage of a sound moral stand, projecting sound moral values and sound moral standards. This key will be the key to lock up, lock out much of the devastation that is occurring in the world today. This key will not imprison the ones who use it, but will imprison the ugliness, the satanism that is prevalent throughout the world. So be it.”

JANUARY 3, 1990

“A VALUABLE REMINDER FOR THE SAKE OF ONE’S SOUL”

“God gave us eyes to see with. The purposes of these eyes were so that we would not walk into the briar patches of life which, of course, are dangerous in many ways to our physical, mental and Spiritual well-being.

Yet, we are oftentimes blinded by our curiosity, our lust, our greed, our desire to seek power over others, and many times because we are attracted to and by what others are like and what they have.

We were not born with our hands tied so we could not use them. Our hands are like specially formed high-tech pieces of machinery.

Yet, we many times allow our hands to be tied when we allow others to physically or mentally handicap the ability in the properties of our hands.

To have our hands tied physically has a tremendous effect on our mental welfare. Our hands being tied restricts our mobility, our being able to properly take care of ourselves in so many areas of life, even in the small act of folding them in prayer.

When someone wants to control our physical actions, there is a restriction on our hands to eliminate our ability to fight back for reasons we feel justifies the use of our hands. We should always be aware that we were born to use these hands for what God intended them for.

Self-inflicted blindness can rarely be called a contagious disease. In reality, it is more of a cop-out to reject responsibility.

When the enemy attacks us and he or she does not want us to see where we are going, a blindfold is used to not just cut out light, but to victimize us by cutting off the reality of where we are, what is happening, and who the real enemies are, surrounding us. Sometimes the captors are fanatical, chauvinistic, political, mafia, criminals, or in some cases, for some reason, legal authority.

Yet, too many times a false blindness is an excuse when one is active in demoralizing speech or actions to others, about others, with others. The expression, 'I didn't see it,' covers many excuses, oftentimes ignoring the responsibility of what one has truly seen.

Tonight the blindfold is only to remind you that an individual many times puts their own blindfold on to escape the responsibility of choosing right over wrong.

God's Commandments are available to each of us.

Sometimes we do not bother to put a physical blindfold over our eyes. We just justify our decision of wrong over right, pretending that we did not see the full impact of our actions, our thoughts or our words.

The expression, 'I was victimized because my hands were tied by my need at the moment,' this need should have been justified by its value, by its results, not by the weak excuse of one's hands being tied; for instance, adultery, harmful drugs, excessive alcohol, social success, business opportunities, financial gain, and many other such selections in life that we have to choose from.

Faith in God should never wear a blindfold nor should we ever allow our hands to be tied by anyone else's superior thinking or authoritative position in the institutional structure of religion. We, as Roman Catholics, must look at Holy Mother Church in this outline: Its History, Its Leadership, Its Restrictions, Its Purpose, Its Longevity, Its Monetary Demands on Its People, Its Changes, Its Power, Its Status Religiously, Politically."

“When children of all ages awaken in the morning and prepare for the day, they have a routine. They follow the routine to the best that they feel like following at that time.

In the convent we had a strict routine. Our hours were counted and we attended every different course of the day with a feeling of love even when we were sad, because it was a new beginning. Sometimes, when the physical did not feel as strong as the yearning in the heart and the mind, we would make ourselves move to the rhythm of the time.

I am Saint Teresa of Avila. Through this Great Miracle of Hope, of Learning, through this time in which you live, be aware of the Importance of what was spoken regarding the blindness you might accept to escape the reality of living.

Remember the Words that were spoken about the importance of the design of your physical, and the beauty and the importance of the added ingredient, that will that gives you the freedom to move, the freedom to speak, the freedom to like or dislike, the freedom to be all that God Wills you to be; and then there was that Special Part, the Portion of Himself that He placed within your heart, He placed It within your whole being, the Soul, the Light of your love for all that is good, the Light of your hope for all that is His Will.

Be blessed, My children, in so many ways. Be thankful for the time you have in every day. Use your time with great sincerity, and remember that the time to do all the things you can do, is a Gift of Love from The Holy Trinity to you.

You do not walk the day by bells. You walk the day by what you call 'a clock' that does not speak out loud to you, does not alert you to every move you must make, but the eyes that you see with, the hands that you feel with, tell you what next you must do.

I have come through This Great Miracle in so many ways, so many times, with so many Words for so many, many people, and I come on this night with a Love in some ways incomprehensible, because It is the Love of The Father handed to you through Me, to give you the strength and the courage to one day become a Saint.

Be blessed, My daughters, and know, that as you rise on the morrow, offer the day in the best way you know, and promise to do His Will every hour. So be it.”

“TRUE CHRISTIANITY HAS A SOUND FOUNDATION”

“The word ‘purity’ is so important in so many areas of life. The very sound of the word immediately infers that something is more than just good.

We speak of a ‘pure state of being’ and in our hearts we know that only God Exists In A Pure State Of Being. We see Heaven as a Place where Saints exist in an Atmosphere of Purity and that They had to work to reach that State of Existence.

On the other hand, mentally try to imagine the frustration, the envy, the hate, the jealousy that satan continually exists with. We must always remember, at one time he had the privilege of living in and being a part of that Pure State of Existence, but is now doomed to constant striving, through his jealousy and all forms of envy, to gain the Souls of all people who have the chance to one day have what he was forced to be cast out of by God Himself, with no chance of return. Everything he is, everything he is a part of, is the opposite of purity. The horror of such ugliness is too difficult to imagine.

God's Power is Limitless. Nothing can harm Him. No power in the world is equal to His Power, no love is greater. We, as Christians, as Roman Catholic Christians, must address this every day of our life.

We have been given a prayer that, as we speak it, we cannot comprehend its full meaning, but it says so much that we never even think about. The line is: 'He descended into Hell and on the third day He arose again.' The question here is simple: Why would God do such a thing?

There probably have been many interpretations and/or theories of such a statement. We must not question it, but use it to better understand that He has allowed it to be for special reasons. Only God could enter the depths of Hell and not have such horror harm Him or affect Him in any way, His Power is so Great.

What a Magnificent Sign of His Power at the Real Announcement of the Beauty of Christianity, and the Strength that Christianity could give to all Christians to stand up to all that is wrong, fight for what is right, defy the devil, and follow in the Footsteps of God Himself by leaving behind all that was wrong and returning to all that was pure.

If we fall into sin we must realize immediately that we must make restitution, because restitution radiates hope and hope gives us the strength for purification.”

“DIVINE PROPHECY NOT MYTH”

“God is the Core of Life.

God is the Substance in which human life depends upon logic, intelligence, hope, understanding of right and wrong, and through His Sustenance nourishes Faith In A Higher Supreme Being.

God, as The Core of Life, implants in each conception of human life a Portion of Himself called ‘a Soul’.”

MARCH 7, 1990

OUT OF SIGHT”

“What is temptation?

Temptation is a device, advice, circumstance(s), person, seen, felt or imagined to cause encouragement to act incorrectly, impurely, obscene, unjust, immoral.

* * *

Why respond to temptation?

Whim, fad, personal recognition, to experience something new, different, or for a thrill.

Is it worth the price?

One’s Soul pays for any temptation that causes one to act, think or participate in forgetting the importance of one’s decisions regarding the effect the decision will have on one’s own mental, physical or moral values, standards, reputation, example, and especially what one’s Soul will have to make restitution for.

* * *

Would a normal well-balanced thinking human being choose a violent physical illness over a healthy life?

Of course not, so logic, intelligence, personal safety should, without question, protect the Soul, because logic would say: 'If I have such deep feeling for the physical, then my own intellect would make me aware of the Importance of Something within me that would fear being destroyed. It's got to be Something I cannot see, I cannot feel, but innately I know is there, because of the common sense that human life has a Purpose more than just daily living.'"

"AIDS"

"Faith in action means a better world, more security in daily living. Faith in action spears productivity, constructive attitudes and constructive progress.

What is Faith in action? It is definitely not emotionalism. It is definitely not etherealism. It is definitely not fanaticism. Its foundation is solid and its foundation is based on truth, morality, and an understanding of the value of life. This value does not stop at the physical; it supports and favors a Spiritual motivation and belief in the possession of a Soul in each human being.

An individual's Faith in God, faith in the reality and the purpose for which religion is important, is an inward belief expressed in action, speech, behavior, example.

The foundation of sound Christianity was first formed by God in His Delivering through Moses The Rules, The Commandments that mankind was to follow because of the necessity to protect the physical, the mental and the Spiritual of each person born to the world.

Since that time there have been many who have accepted what was correct and many who have denied what was correct, but in spite of the conflict, the errors that tried to destroy sound Christianity, Christianity remains strong, forceful and undeniably evident under all adversities.

Faith in action is an individual's will, not always supported by leaders in Holy Mother Church. Many times the Hierarchy forgets all about the body of the Church because of inner actions of and with their peers in the stages of supposed leadership; in other words, the executives in administration.

All men are not born leaders but many men feel, because of their personal needs, they have leadership qualities. A good administrator does not mean a good teacher in Faith and morals.

Because of the will of all human beings, it is important for all people to understand that one's own will is the control for decisions of right over wrong, justice over injustice and morality over immorality, no matter who the leader of the organization, the path or the household is.

We fight many diseases, physical and mental; we fear them. Every time a new one becomes evident and cures are trying to be found to rid man of a terrible disease, it stimulates activity, concern, and always requests by the thousands for monies to be received to fight the disease.

Many times there are destructive diseases in religion and these are ignored because they seem too widespread, too difficult to conquer. One of the greatest diseases in Holy Mother Church is the constant and consistent emphasis on alms. If we look back we can associate alms in the very beginning, when a price was offered and taken for the True Identity of Christ, and His Identity was sold for a price.

Most of the men in the Hierarchy are indifferent to the faithful, the body of the Church, unless alms are a connecting link, thus ignoring the value of stability in the body of the Church, and ignoring the benefits of good sound tradition exercised through unity in thought, Faith, direction.

Many of the Hierarchy are derelict in sound leadership and God's Commandments. Identity of the Souls, the reality of Souls are rarely spoken of.

When is the last time a sound lesson was taught on what the Soul is, Its Real Existence, and Its Portion of man that will remain after the physical death? When was the last time a knowledgeable person taught on how to protect the Soul?

To be a leader should be more than an administrator. To be a leader in Holy Mother Church, it should go beyond a personal way of life; it should extend to the darkest corners, to teach, to aid, and always be available to give hope.

Men are screaming the greatest disease in the world today; it's called 'AIDS'. If we take certain letters from some of the above words, AIDS have spread greatly in a different and far more deadly manner than the physical disease: Alms, Indifference, Derelict, and Souls."

"ALMS"

"Never to be ignored as a major factor practiced in all areas of good and evil, and in all races, colors and creeds. Many times the gift of alms changes and/or precedes the purpose of sound moral judgment, substituting sound moral standards for monetary value.

Alms, from the beginning of time, since the beginning of Christianity and before, has played an important part in Bible History, and up to our time is still a major decision maker in church, government, business, and many areas of life.

It is sad when alms is the foundation that decides a lack of sound judgment by a man in Holy Mother Church over the value of Souls to be considered.”

“The basic result of the strong drive to put all Christians in a lump sum, calling it ‘ecumenism’.

Such indifference purged the church tradition of its idealistic practice of putting God as the Center of Holy Mother Church.

Ecumenism gave the men in the Church a free hand to protestantize our tradition, watering down the beauty of special devotions, special respect, special formal care, in so many areas that made Roman Catholics put God first and look to and at God as The Creator and Supreme Being He Is.

Ecumenism falsified the reason and purpose for the practice of genuflecting, silence, proper dress and respectful actions.”

“The Hierarchy passed down to the parish priests an attitude and a practice to abandon so many traditional practices, that the pastors and priests forsake the faithful in the parish, became neglectful of their duties, and remiss and negligent in their priestly responsibilities.”

* * *

“Humanism became the focal point of how Roman Catholics should respond to each other in church. It has been allowed to be the criteria for pleasing the people, rather than the church being the place wherein God is the Focal Point and we go there for the benefit of our Soul, plus using this time to concentrate on communication with God and leaving human relationships to a place and time outside of church.

As we are made to the Image and Likeness of God, let's remember, our Soul is a Portion of Him and we are responsible to God for It, no matter what else or who else in Holy Mother Church rejects this responsibility.”

APRIL 11, 1990

"ARE YOU CAUGHT IN THIS?"

“Satan’s pattern for deception to infiltrate everything and cause most people to feel instability in many areas of life and direction.

Confusion is a weapon wherein Peace of mind, body and Soul are tormented and distressed.”

“WOULD SOUND ACTION OR EXCUSE ANSWER THESE QUESTIONS FOR YOU?”

“Without a doubt, we live in one of the most morally tragic, disastrous times in Modern History.

In so many ways and in so many areas, there is a scale used and referred to as someone or something rated on the scale of 1 to 10.

If we apply this scale to our personal moral behavior, what would we use as a base of standard and value?

How many people would use God’s Commandments as their moral value and moral standard?

How many people would use just their environment as their base of opinion and rating?

How many people would claim that they are subjected to so many temptations that they cannot be accountable or blamed for their inappropriate lack of access to the better things in life, so they do not fall into a category that is demeaning and/or immoral to their mental, physical and Spiritual living?

How many people understand the value of hope, how much strength there is in its very existence, its purpose, and how hope motivates encouragement, purpose, and how hope gives balance to existence?

How many people never relate to hope but exist in a total world of depression, ultimately making everyone else around them miserable, hopeless, frustrated, and finally in a state of confusion?

How many people truly understand that there is the opposite, total opposite to good and to purity? Denial of this does not make it nonexistent.

How many people play both sides of the fence, justifying a double standard for their decisions because they feel that the times we live in, with all that is going on, with all they are subjected to, and because there is so much corruption in so many areas of life, they are forced to be committed to sometimes understanding, sometimes participating, sometimes just acknowledging the necessity for the need of the justification of wrong over right?

How many Roman Catholics, who have been instructed in God's Commandments, stand up for sound moral values and sound moral standards?

It would be wrong to limit one's Examination of Conscience to just this time of the year, Holy Week. Each day of living, each day facing decisions, an individual must base all decisions on one's own belief in the True Existence of God and the True Existence of His Commandments."

APRIL 11, 1990

“SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT”

“All is not right that ends well. It might end well but that doesn’t always make it right.

The changes in Holy Mother Church are in many ways ending well, but most of them have and are weakening the religious practices and Spiritual stability of many people and are even causing many people to become disoriented in the services in Church. This obviously means that the changes were not right, not for the betterment of the Faith of the individual Roman Catholic.

Also, the changes, some referred to as ‘Ecumenism’, gave people in other religions the feeling that ‘Holy Mother Church was not so sure about many of their practices and beliefs’, thus weakening the example of strength in One True Practice of Religious Faith in God that stood out so emphatically and with such esteem.”

APRIL 11, 1990

“I have spoken many, many, many times through this woman in the world. I am Saint Alphonsus Liguori.

Everything that has been taught to you on this night is for you to analyze, see the value of, and then use it in the way best for the benefit of your Soul.

There is great confusion throughout the world. The confusion that satan is causing is being put in the background by so many political issues in the foreground. Be aware, My daughters and My sons, that you must recognize what is wrong in the time in which you live, and changes must take place because there are so many, many, many people headed for total perdition.

I know that you have heard Words from Us many, many times, and sometimes the Words are put in a box, put in a drawer, or hidden in someplace where you live. Sometimes you forget to take Them out, re-read Them, so you can better understand the meaning of Them.

You are warriors in your time, warriors with the weapon of Faith, not the weapon of confusion. Faith is a tremendous weapon against Spiritual disaster.

Some men are shouting, some women are shouting many things that appear to many people as great Spiritual guidance. This is not so. In some ways it is total hypocrisy; in some areas, jealousy. In some ways it is driven by satan to cause confusion.

Many people say that they are talking about God. They have an ultimate motive. It is not for the sake of Souls; it is many times solely personal pride, ego. Many children want power over others, dismissing the very fact that every individual has an individual will that is to be used to make decisions regarding moral values and moral standards.

For some people it is easy to tell others how successful they are, how great they are; for some people, hearing this, they believe it, for they feel insignificant in comparison.

‘It is too bad sometimes,’ We say, ‘that Souls cannot be seen, because one Soul might shine so brightly It would blind the other person, that they would not be able to speak.’

Be blessed, My children, and do not worry about understanding everything you read, but do be concerned about the good you follow and how what you read affects your life morally.

I do not bless you in the way I blessed when I was upon the earth. I bless you tonight in a little different way: I raise My hand to the top of your head and I ask The Father to say, ‘Let your mind absorb only What I Am, Who I Am, and chase all evil thoughts away.’ And then I put My hand to your breast and I say, ‘I ask The Son to touch your heart so every breath you take will give you the strength to follow what is pure in every way.’ I cross your shoulders, and with this I say, ‘Let The Spirit of God embrace you so that your Soul will reflect the beauty of purity in every way.’ So be it.”

What determines our ethics?

What determines our degree of courage, our concept of courage?

What determines our disciplines?

What determines our fear, degree of fear, type of fear, and ability to recognize its origin?

What determines our conscious understanding of what makes us what we are; also, how we handle our understanding regarding other people and outside occurrences?

What determines our tolerances based on sound values and sound standards?

What determines some of us to be more intuitive than others?

What determines some of us to learn about many things, and others of us to be reticent to go outside our home base or workplace to expand our knowledge?

What determines our callousness?

What determines our degree of charity and the type of charity we are limited in and to?

What determines our sensitivity and/or insensitivity?

What determines our social likes and dislikes?

Do we understand the real meaning of human life?

Do we believe there is a Goal to human life besides earthly measures?

Do we believe in Sainthood?

Do we see our Faith In God as a normal part of our life?

Do we understand that our Faith In God is our hope for the future, for a Life different than the life we now know to be?

Do we recognize the true value of the physical life?

Do we truly understand a grievous sin against God, against another person, or do we justify everything we do because of what we selfishly feel is right, even though others may see it differently?

Do we understand a mortal sin?

Do we have the ability to determine the difference between a mortal sin, a venial sin, or an act against God, against another human being, that is based totally on our lack of compassion, inconsiderateness, impatience or mental block?”

JUNE 25, 1990

“Many times we pray for material gains and we see no reason why these prayers should not be answered, because we have all good in mind for what we want to gain through these prayers.

What we do not see is the full effect, that gaining what we are praying for could basically destroy someone, something, or cause an inner action of turmoil that would benefit no one because of the inability of someone who could not handle the financial or material gain.

It is difficult for human beings to understand beyond a given point, the human capabilities, strengths, inner likes and dislikes, hopes and dreams of another human being. Only God knows. So prayers are answered with God’s Wisdom in the Control rather than man’s feelings, desires, and emotional or mental ideas or ideals.

If we are honest, if we see the Perfection of God’s Love for us, we accept the way our prayers are answered and we go on from there; but if we, in sheer willfulness, determine that we don't need prayer, we will do anything to achieve our goal, we are walking on water, deep water."

“HOW MANY MEANS OF
DO WE HAVE WITH OTHER PEOPLE?”

“Facial expressions have a language all their own: happiness, fear, arrogance, compassion, anger, disbelief, agreement, disagreement, concern, acceptance, rejection, anxiety, insanity, love, and many, many more.

Verbal words, phrases, sentences, can create so many different moods, commitments, directives, standards, solutions, agreements, disagreements, and so on and so on.

Body language can be interpreted morally, immorally, cause aggravation to a conversation, or even create comedy. Body language has much impact on our lives. It is important that we understand that a person's walk, the action of a head, the swing of the arms, can affect another person's attitude, conversation, and even intimidate a situation or a person's thinking or self-esteem, and so on and so on.

Hands are a tremendous form of concentrated or habitual form of expression. Sometimes the hands can describe what words are not saying. Sometimes hands can be distracting because they are visually interfering with the conversation, and so on and so on.

All of these forms of intended or not intended communication of expressions can be controlled by the mind.”

JUNE 25, 1990

“PROTECTION OF OUR SOUL — OUR MIND”

“Our mind is the closest part of us to our Soul. We cannot say, suppose, or rationalize, that a particular portion of our body such as our nose, our eyes, our hands, our feet, our heart, our arms, are what control what we do. These are only tools of our actions, but our mind, through our decisions, causes the results of our sound moral values and our sound moral standards. The human mind has a tremendous responsibility in every human being.

It is sad to say that sound logic, beneficial facts, good habits, reality, are most times watered down or even eliminated in some people’s thinking, because they are dependent on the action or reaction of other people, or on the opinions, abilities or lack of abilities of other people; plus, they have not trained themselves to evaluate their own abilities to make decisions that would perhaps be different than those they are being surrounded with.

It is important that all ages be taught they have a will to act with, speak with, that in real essence gives strength to their individuality, as long as they are ethical and moral in their concepts and decisions. The mind of the individual innately knows right from wrong, whether it be intuitive or indelibly marked within their understanding what is good, what is evil, what is right, what is wrong.

All through the History of mankind there have been many barbaric, corrupt, offensive, immoral organizations and individuals that totally deleted God from their thinking and actions, but at the same time there were as many or more who believed in sound moral ethics, sound moral values and sound moral standards, yet did not have the courage or the ability in some cases, to defend what was right. Why? Because in their decision they allowed fear, misunderstanding, intimidation or physical harm, to mentally evaluate their decision, eliminating sound ethics and sound moral values and sound moral standards.

Many times in History, too numerous to mention, are similar in many ways to the present time, with one great difference: television has expounded and expanded on the facts, bringing these facts into the visible and hearing advantage or disadvantage to millions and millions of people. In some ways this could be determined as good, and in other ways it could be determined highly detrimental, because it is alerting the minds of so many millions of people to what is presently acceptable to millions of people. As one looks visually at what is taking place with so many people in the world, to so many people in the world, one finds immorality acceptable and yet degrading to God's Purpose for human life.

A story or a situation spoken of, or written, is oftentimes the excuse for others to be tempted to try or to enforce on others, but television, with its visual explicitness, encourages immorality in all forms of human degradation.

We do live in a time worse than Sodom and Gomorrah, but how many people in the world see it for the horror it is to that Portion of God within each human being, the Soul?"

JUNE 25, 1990

“Being human has tremendous responsibility, as so Many of Us Saints Here in the Heavens realized and then found out to be fact. The Soul is a Precious Part of life, Something that should be insured well by behavior, by sound moral values, by sound moral standards.

I have spoken through this woman in the world many times. The first time that I spoke through her, it was difficult for her to pronounce My Name.

When I lived upon the earth I fought a Spiritual battle. I fought it in the midst of mankind and I fought it in a way that I always hoped The Father would understand my love for Him, because I felt so strong regarding the fight that I put up to prove my plan. I am Saint Athanasius.

You live in a time now, similar to the time in which I lived. Heresy you are surrounded by. Heresy is in many men. The mind, as the controller of what mankind does, is distracted, disturbed, and following many wrong paths.

It is necessary for mankind of all ages, all races, all colors, all creeds, to begin to understand the importance of the mind in conjunction with Faith in The Father, and the importance of the war at hand. You are in a great war, the war between good and evil, evil desperately trying to win.

There are many heretics in the world. There are many, many demons throughout the world, difficult for mankind to truly understand, for mankind says, 'I cannot see the demons, but when I am with This Great Miracle, I feel the Strength of It and I feel the Power in It, so I know What is spoken is from The Father firsthand.'

Man says, 'I believe in God and I do not see Him,' and I, Saint Athanasius say, 'He is with you in That Portion of you that is called "a Soul"; nothing could be more firsthand.' So always remember that as you walk your daily life, you walk Hand in hand with The Father.

It is your duty to fight evil in every portion of your life. It is your duty to fight, through prayer, through sound ethics and sound moral values, so that one day you will stand Here, Where I am. It does not take open bravery. It takes the mind of a human being to determine what stand will be taken, what attitude will be taken, and yes, what form of prayer.

You are Blessed in many ways. You are Blessed by your presence here on this night, and in your heart, but mostly in your mind. You know that What you have heard and What you have read, What you have to take with you from this place, had to be handed through a Soul because of the Perfection of It, because of the Direction of It, and because of what It alerted you to: the mind The Father gave.

I have raised My hand many a time to bless you. I do it again, because as I bless you, I bless you first at the head, to preserve the importance of what you know to be true. I bless you at the breast so you will feel in your heart the Love that has been extended to you. I cross your shoulders in a way and in a manner to hold this Blessing of the head and the heart together, for do not forget, the mind is your connection to all you say, all you do, and your mind that projects your actions, your words, is what will help you become a Great Saint. So be it.”

AUGUST 15, 1990

“WHO IS GOD? WHAT IS GOD?
WE ARE TAUGHT HE IS ALL THINGS.”

“Logic says He Created All Things, but logic also tells us He is not any man-made invention.

Mechanical devices and man-made implements stemming from man’s intellect, can be used for good or evil, but that does not mean God is personally in the article or equipment because of the saying that ‘God Is All Things’.

Man’s intellect, man’s will, man’s human abilities have a foundation; that is, the Gifts God instilled in man: the ability to think, act, talk, write, remember, invent, utilize knowledge and creative abilities, plus partake in the procreation of human life.

The real worth of man is the Worth connected to His Soul. This Soul, a Portion of God Himself, is one of the reasons man has decided God Is All Things.

Trees grow, some to great heights. They have a purpose, but they do not have a Soul, a will, an intellect, nor do they have the ability of procreation in the human sense of the word.

Mainly, trees and vegetation are created to aid mankind in areas of life that are beneficial to man's life, much to do with nourishments, comforts, beauty, and part of the overall help to man's physical condition.

'God Is All Things.' Yes, because He is The Creator that designed all things, each for a purpose. The wrong use of the body, the intellect, the will, not only insults God but abuses What God Intended the life of mankind to be for.

Immoral use of the body is against God's Purpose for man's part in the whole of creation.

Three thousand years ago God took the time to give mankind Great Direction, His Rules, for the safety of each Soul in each human being.

Two thousand years ago God came to earth in the form of a human being so that mankind could handle His Presence, and be instilled with the Purpose for life and the need to understand why man was created in the first place.

Here we are, two thousand years later and man is in the time of a chaotic state of immorality, indecency and obvious rejection of God's Deliverance of His Rules and Precious Sacrifice that He personally gave in a form and manner that all mankind could understand.

What Happened?

Greed, lust, barbarism, hunger for power, sheer egoism, immorality, thus ignoring All that God gave, is a constant threat to All the Teachings, Guidance and Personal Direction. If mankind would only stop, think and remember.

The Miracle Of Saint Joseph* came through His Divine Love, simply put, gently delivered, and ignored because of the egomaniacal attitudes and frenzy of a humanistic greed and hunger for power amongst the Hierarchy of Holy Mother Church. If they had been doing their part in sound Spiritual guidance, in a sound moral manner, The Miracle Of Saint Joseph would not have been necessary.

Who has fought the Teachings in This Miracle the most?

The men in Holy Mother Church, because of the fear of monetary loss and/or monetary division.

Sad, yes, more than sad; total humanistic evaluation of human determination according to human interpretation.

It is about time that people of all races, all colors, all creeds, understand The Miracle Of Saint Joseph and What It is all about. This Miracle of Teaching, of Direction, is for mankind to better understand the Will of God. The Valuable Lessons that have been delivered from Heaven, teaching the Value of the Soul, the Purpose for God's Commandments, and the Gift of Christianity, are not to be set aside but are to be read and re-read, so the Soundness in Each Message will give Strength where it is needed and Direction where it will help the individual better understand the full meaning of sound moral values, sound moral standards, and the responsibilities connected to these two major areas of life.

Logic must be seen, heard and read, because logic has foundation to it and logic makes sense.

Wake up to the logic that is available. Don't ignore hope through God's Gift to you and others.

God doesn't waste time. God uses time to give His Personal Words in a manner that mankind can understand, and He has always used human beings to relay His Messages.

Truth should not be difficult for mankind to understand, because Truths have come from God in the same manner for thousands of years."

AUGUST 15, 1990

“Sometimes when We speak, the naturalness in the Conversation, in the Direction, in the Placement of the Words, it appears as though this child is speaking to you. This was the way it was thousands of years ago. When Moses spoke, they thought that he was speaking with his own knowledge, with his own feeling for example, his own ideas, ideals.

Moses was instilled in an educated way, in how to lead people of all ages, all types, all kinds, and even though sometimes there were great arguments, Moses was never baffled by these arguments. When he reached the point when a command had to be, he did not hesitate to make the Conversation or the Statement a command, because in his being he knew it was what The Father Willed to be said and to be done at that particular time.

Everyone did not agree with him, everyone did not like him, everyone did not feel close to him, and yet there was something they could not pull fully away from; there was a magnetism that was different than humans understand.

When a child, whether it be of a very young age or an older age, is instilled with this Particular Blessing that is a Blessing of Teaching, for Teaching, it is not as though the instrument reads a book and retains what the book says. It is a far deeper Teaching, it is a far greater Teaching, and It is instilled into the core of the mind, the will, the actions and the whole being. It is not something that can be removed by the instrument or anyone else.

There are times when things are instilled that other things are removed, and then compensations are made to fill another void. There are strengths instilled that mankind cannot understand. There is memory instilled that is not akin to man.

The time after Moses was a time of great trial, because during this period of time mankind strayed, mankind lost the feeling for the Directions that were given.

Since the time that My Son was upon the earth, much of the Direction has been set aside, and now, through a very fragile human being I send to the world again, Hope, Strength; I send to the world again, a balance for thinking, Direction to save Souls.

There are so many problems in the time in which you live. These problems are man-made; they have not been made by Me. Men try to refuse what is good, what is right, what is pure, because they feel they will be different and they want to be like everyone else.

When I used Moses in his time, his great powerful strength, physical in all ways, his knowledge, his abilities, I used because of the tasks I had set aside for him to promote, to carry out, and to lead thousands to Me, millions to Me. The memory of His existence will never be out of existence.

And then I sent Another Part of Me, One Who taught, One Who led, One Who directed, One Who gave stability to Christianity, One Who sacrificed for Christianity, One Who bled for Christianity, One Who died for Christianity, so that mankind would know the Importance of it and what it would mean to Me when the physical ended and the Soul would return to Me.

There have been Others through time. You have read about Them and many times you talk about Them, and some of you even pray to Them. Their tasks were of an individual nature, and Those Who served, served diligently.

I come again to the world, for some time now, and All the Lessons given are for the benefit of each one's Soul, that Portion of Me that I want returned to Me at a given time. Thousands know of this Great Miracle, thousands upon thousands upon thousands, and the day will come when they will read the Words.

But right now, you live in a time of total chaos morally, mentally, physically and spiritually. There are too few solid leaders directing mankind to Me. There are too few in the world who truly, genuinely, humbly love Me. They say it's a time in the world where man must be seen, man must become known. The instrument I use is not interested in that part and it is I Who force her to be seen.

If you were to take a piece of paper, one sheet, there is not one of you in this room who could not tear the piece of paper into thousands of pieces. The instrument through whom I speak, the instrument that I use could not do it to that degree. I take the weakest physically sometimes to show My Power, for particular deeds. Gentleness can become very firm when the deed must be accomplished appropriately.

There is great strength in obedience to My Will. There is great hope in doing My Will. There is great perseverance within one's being when they feel they have done My Will even partially.

There are millions of Words yet to be spoken; some, many, not formally. There are many, many Souls that this instrument must touch in a personal way. There are many who will not know until a given time that they were touched by obedience to The Divine, and they will say, 'If I had but known,' and I say now, 'If they knew, they might criticize or ignore the association with her that will give them strength beyond what anything else can give.'

Ask yourself on this night: at any time, have you grown more in love with Me since you have learned What has passed through her to you, or do you feel further away from Me because of your association with her? I know your answers, and yet always remember, a fragile body, a fragile voice, a strong will and obedience to My Will, is what gave you the strength you have to go on in My Way for the rest of your life.

Don't toss that strength away, don't trade that strength for something lesser, don't dismiss that strength, because if you do, the weakness you will not be able to stand, the mental anguish will be difficult for you, and a lack of hope will cause you only distress.

You are Blessed, My sons, by the obedience of an instrument that serves Me As I Will It To Be, and she allows no man, woman or child to interfere at any time, in any way, for any reason.

You are Blessed in so many ways. Let your will be subject to Me. Let your will understand the Magnitude of Divine Love, and as you walk in the way of man, you will find strength in everything you do, everything you say, because a Particular Strength will come from Where I Am. So be it."

“When The Saints walked the earth, They walked the earth as you and I, human flesh, all the needs of human life, all the likes and the dislikes, maybe different than ours, but They walked in a way that They, too, had to make decisions of right or wrong. They had to control Their emotions, They had to control Their self-discipline, and They also had to work for a living, in some form, some way. They had chores to do, whether the chores were ‘not paid for chores’, or they were chores that They got a salary for, but They walked as you and I walk.

Each of us has a chance to become a Saint. Not one of us in this room is a Saint, but the Goal should be for Sainthood, and we have the time, we have the knowledge, we have the Direction, and we are a very close Organization; and there’s not one person in the Organization that has not had the opportunity to think about having a Soul.

Saint Teresa of Avila has spoken many times through This Great Miracle, and as She speaks again tonight, She is telling us what we must understand about our being, about our life, and how we must strive to do what is right, what is correct, because we are responsible for the Judgment of our Soul. In the Face of God, one day the Soul will stand by Itself, and when God welcomes that Soul back within His Being, then we become Saints, but until He does, there is restitution to be made.

I, Saint Teresa of Avila, have spoken many times through this woman in the world, through this child, through this instrument of Our Voice, of Our Words, of Our Teaching, of Our Direction.

We have spoken in a manner that you can understand, you must understand, and you must reveal to others, perhaps not through the vocal word, but through the Written Word that you have been put in charge of to deliver throughout the world, for men, women and children to better understand the Beauty of Faith in The Father, the Purpose of Faith in The Father, and the Reason for life in the human form.

You have been given a Gift of Love, you have been given a Gift of Hope, you have been given a Gift of Desire. You must not erase It from your mind at any time. You must not erase It from your life. You must live It every day, live It according to the Will of The Father, and pass all things to Him that you are concerned about, and then pray that He will give you the Direction, not that you want, but that He wants for you to follow. So be it.”

“She has been talking all day. There are so many things that must be accomplished. There are so many things that the timing has to be God’s, and there are so many things that must be learned in how to do it orderly and not just haphazardly.

When we deal with each other we must be constantly aware of the Soul of the other human being. We must be constantly aware that the Soul will reflect in front of God, the time It spent with us, the other person’s Soul. If we were a bad influence it will reflect, if we were a good influence it will reflect.

We have a responsibility to each other and most people do not understand that. What we say, what we do, how we act, how we perform, what we leave the other person with, about us, can either leave a scar on their Soul, open their heart, or a way to become a Saint.

So it is time that we grow up, time that we understand that we are not on this land, we are not upon the earth just to work and strive for what we want, but we must be totally and solely conscious that the responsibility of human life is with us the moment we begin to understand that we can talk, we can hear, and we can perform.”

“ASK YOURSELF AM I SOUND ASLEEP OR AM I DOZING?”

“WE LIVE IN A TIME WORSE THAN SODOM AND GOMORRAH.

When this Statement was made over twenty years ago, through The Miracle Of Saint Joseph, it was difficult to make a real comparison because we were not exposed to the full impact of what was really widespread and was getting worse. Our lives were on a keel of standards, and regulated by our circle of family and friends we were comfortable with; plus, the men in the Church had not yet openly jumped into such a heretical state of confusion.

Only Heaven could have been totally aware of the undercurrent of confusion, satanism, humanism that was brewing in a boiling pot of immorality, permissiveness, and total chaos of drastic changes that were ignoring God's Power and falsely encouraging people of all races, colors, creeds, to imagine they had physical and Spiritual gifts that were on the plane of Supernatural Gifts.

Many men in Holy Mother Church found this appealing, because in some ways it gave a new dimension to their thinking, imagination and duties.

Many times the innocent, the ignorant, are victims of the sins of others and/or their own indifferences to very possible and real acts of disaster:

Moral Physical Mental Spiritual

We have an obligation to God first, then to ourselves, and then to our fellowmen, to speak up and out when we suspect or know of a moral or physical danger that should be averted.

In our day, not speaking out is not realistic, because if we could knock someone down to save their life from an oncoming car, bullets, or disaster, we would automatically do it, and very probably be called 'a hero'.

Then why are so many people afraid or concerned over losing the friendship, love or companionship of someone, by speaking out against sins against God, sins against the moral values God Himself dictated?

Wake Up, Roman Catholics. You have a duty, an obligation, a very important stand to take.

What good is there in all the fear to say something is wrong, when in the long run, the individual or individuals could lose their Soul because of their own moral weaknesses, plus, do themselves and others bodily harm, emotional harm, and take others with them straight to Hell?

People basically justify, some even brag, that prostitution, male or female, is the oldest profession in the existence of mankind.

There are many wrongs justified, but if we truly believe that there is a Life after this one, then doesn't there also have to be a Portion of ourselves in that Life?

Just as there is a Portion of God within us called 'a Soul', when the physical ends there is a portion of us that stands before God as part of the Soul, that Portion of Him He gave us at the moment of conception; else, why would He have given us such a strong knowledge of right and wrong, good and evil? Everything God has given us, done for us, has purpose. We cannot ignore the ability and responsibility of choosing moral rights and moral wrongs.

People come from all over the world to America, to exercise their free rights in life, yet we Roman Catholics ignore the Sacrifice God Himself has offered, through our free wills, This Portion of Himself, our Soul, to be at our mercy every day of our physical life.

Confession gives us relief of the pressure of wrongdoings, but what man can truly guarantee us that our Soul is not scarred by our presumptions and actions, or our neglect in calling a sin 'a sin'?

Confession many times causes us to accept the forgiveness of the priest, yet inwardly denying and/or recognizing that the sin or sins reflected upon in the confessional were serious offenses against God that must be corrected, remembering that our Soul is victimized by them.

Satan is having a field day with all the pornographic garbage, permissiveness, ignorance to God's Commandments, unethical ethics, injustices in our justice system, power-mongers in the underworld, and in the open Spiritual market, preying on the people's need for sound teaching and understanding, to and for the Reason for human life, and what lies beyond this life.

Devotees of the pompous authorities are basically very insecure in their foundation of what and who is most important, thus weakening the voted-in or appointed offices that should be concerned with the Souls of the faithful.

We cannot deny our human frailties, but we can learn to strengthen our conscience and our will to follow The Commandments of God. Logic tells us there is nothing in Them too difficult to understand, nor are They unreasonable. Also, our intellect in the Faith of A Supreme Being bears our continuous alertness to our moral responsibilities."

APRIL 8, 1992

“There are Hundreds of Saints that have spoken through This Great Miracle in a very natural form, sometimes just in conversation, sometimes when people wondered if it was a Saint speaking. Other times people would say, ‘Well, I don’t know if that was a Saint; I don’t think that was a Saint,’ and I found myself smiling because it was the Saint or it was Our Blessed Mother, or it was even Our Lord or God Himself.

We don’t expect God to speak out loud or give us Words. We’re not that intimate with God. We are with The Saints, we feel close to The Saints. After all, we know that They walked the earth one time like we walk the earth, and we feel that we have more of a rapport with Them, we can relate to Them.

That’s what’s so beautiful, because God sent Three Human Beings to the earth so we could relate to family life, we could relate to Holiness, we could relate to sacrifice, we could relate to Christianity, we could relate personally; otherwise we couldn't relate.

We have it made, because you see, in Moses' time they didn't have what we've got. We have it made. One thousand years after Moses, God gave us a Very Special Gift. He gave us Human Beings that were much more than human beings, but He put Them in a form that we'd understand. He put Them in a time that we could relate to, a way we could relate to. They had to live like we live.

We can relate to Moses, because Moses gave us What God gave him; and, of course, we can relate to the Apostles because they were human and they walked with Him.

God, as we are taught, Is All Things, and we must remember He Is All Things. We must also remember that there is so much more to each of us than hair and face and body and flesh. There has to be, because we have intelligence, we have the ability, we have talents, and we have that very precious thing, the will.

The will is something that is so God-given, because it is the will that makes us take a stand. It's the will that gives us the drive to do what is right. It's our will that says sound moral values, sound moral standards.

It's that will that makes us be a parent. It's that will that says 'Yes' and says 'No.' It's that will that tells other people what we are about, what we want, what we don't want; that beautiful will. We can't see it, we can't touch it, but it is our control point every moment of our life. It's a Very Precious Gift from God because that will is that very close connection to that Portion of Him within us, the Soul.

People that do not believe these things, I feel sorry for, because you see, to know we have a Soul and to know that we have the will to control the Soul's destiny, is a Beautiful Gift from God.

I, your Heavenly Mother, say: 'I speak so openly through a child in your way, in your day. My Words you will remember, for I gave Them in a manner you could relate to.'

Be blessed, My daughters and My sons, and do not forget, The Father's Love is within you, The Father's Love is for That Part that is within you, but also, The Father loves that physical part of each one born to the world, for He says, 'A special Gift, a special Way, a special Love, the will must return That Portion to Me one day.' So be it."

APRIL 21, 1992

“Scandal in itself is a terrible scar to individuals, families, friends, businesses. Even people in the outer rim of such scandal are affected by its very existence. Should we ignore it, hide it, or face it? Will covering up, whitewashing it, make it go away, or will it automatically simmer, fester, and one day cause it to be worse?”

It is a tremendous responsibility to choose what is right, what is wrong, when it deals with Souls. Is protection of the perpetrator of the utmost importance to save face? Not necessarily, not when there can be destruction to lives, mentally, emotionally, physically. No man or woman has the right, the justification to permit misconduct, unkindness, immorality of any nature, to people of any age.

Awareness, honesty in our daily practice of dealing with our Faith in God, our daily mental and physical responsibilities, our goals, should all be based on sound moral values and sound moral standards. We cannot expect to gain our Goal of Heaven if we live with sets of double values and double standards.

As Roman Catholics we must look realistically at what keeps the Roman Catholic Church from falling. How it was meant to be structured in the beginning obviously had sound direction, but in the course of being interpreted, allowed a lot of infidels and self-righteous, power-loving leaders to dilute the formula, at first using all they could to hold the attention of people and to elaborate on the importance of the obedience the congregations should comply with, and what the congregations' obligations were and are to agree with, be obedient to, and support the decisions of the so-called Hierarchy.

Now we come to what really keeps the Roman Catholic Church from falling. It is definitely not the Hierarchy; it is the Faith of the people. It is an ingrained feeling that God has instilled within their Souls to believe in the Importance of what Christ gave and nurtured, in spite of the hypocrisies, the heresies that some men in the Church condone and nurture and use to gain status in the positions of importance.

Your Faith, my Faith is in the sound realism that God would give us the Foundation for our Faith, and it is He Who nurtures it according to the degree of our own intelligence and our own ability.

We cannot allow anyone or anything to corrupt our Faith, nor can we allow anyone to sidetrack us into believing that our religion needs so much freedom of personal and impersonal humanistic participation, that we lose sight of the Basic Foundation that Christ laid down when He was on the earth.

God gave us The Rules, His Commands. What a Loving God we have, what a Protective God we have. The Rules also were and are meant for the men who serve in Holy Mother Church, not just the flock, the congregations. As we must obey These Rules, so must they. If our sins are detrimental to the Salvation of our Souls, so are theirs.

We are not animals to be led to the slaughter. We are human beings. We have Souls. We must never allow ourselves to become duped into agreeing with double standards, with double values, with corrupt ideas or ideals, to cater to any debasement of our Souls.

Many Roman Catholics agree with whatever a priest does or commands to be positively the way. No matter what they say, we must stand up to them when we know they are wrong. We must never forget that no one will be standing with us before God, for the Judgment of our Souls.”

MAY 12, 1992

“SOMETHING WE ALREADY KNOW, BUT DO WE SEE IT IN THE FULLNESS OF ITS REALITY?”

“A parent’s wishes, goals, hopes, dreams for their child or children, do not always result in the degree or manner that the parents would like to be, because God made everyone different in physical appearance, mental acumen, likes and dislikes, types of talents, degree of talents, physical abilities, physical strengths, different motivations, temperaments, ideals, and so on, and so on, and so on.

Families that are living in the same environment, based on the same seeds of the home’s routine of living, grow apart, grow in different vocations of living, grow liking and/or loving people totally different than expected.

The family name does not lump together the total character of the full living habits of everyone in the family. Maybe there are similarities, but these can relate to millions of other people's lifestyle or habits.

One thing all people have in common, and that is the Precious Divine Gift, the Soul.

Wouldn't it be terrible to live in a world if all people were clones? Nothing would be exciting, interesting, or give the feeling of personal adventure, connected to personal identity, personal accomplishment, plus, it would lose the excitement of personal challenge connected to identifiable individualistic recognition that makes life interesting.

Even if clones had a will, it would not be like it is now. We should thank God every day for His Beautiful Gift of so much to do and so much challenge in life, giving us options to choose our own path of life."

"HEALTH"

"An important facet of human life is definitely the mental and physical health, which radiates in daily life sound mental thinking and physical activities that generate a meaningful lifestyle."

“OUR WILL”

“A Divinely Designed Gift, permitting a freedom to make choices, to accept or reject any physical, mental or moral situation or circumstance.”

“OUR SENSES”

“A Generous Gift from God in the creation of our human life, enabling us the benefits of these senses that involve touching, feeling, seeing, hearing, smelling, and speaking.

These senses generate our communication to our will, our intellect, allowing us to make decisions regarding safety to our physical, alerting our mental capacity, plus conviction, assertiveness to our decisions regarding a moral or immoral conclusion.”

“OUR MENTALITY”

“A tool of direction that we have access to, using it for a monetary means, our educational goals, plus it is a tool to better understand our Spiritual necessities for the Salvation of our Soul.”

“CLEANLINESS”

“Cleanliness is an important part of our physical, mental, and Spiritual life. Cleanliness of the physical has a definite effect on our moods, our attitude and our health. Cleanliness in our moral decisions radiates in everything we do, everything we say, and of course, is a security not only for us, but for everyone we come in contact with.”

“RESPECT”

“When we respect the Gift of life, the Gift of decisions, the Gift of knowing that when this life ends there is a more Beautiful Life waiting, we will be better able to deal with all the necessities that daily life forces upon us.”

“MOTIVATION”

“Some people are self-motivated and some have to be driven to motivation. Many times people are motivated in one direction only, and that is to do anything that will make money. This, of course, can be a very devastating situation for one's Soul. There is definitely nothing wrong with a desire to have financial success unless it jeopardizes one's integrity or one's Soul.

Many subjects could be spoken about regarding the distinct, sound effects that motivation could initiate and cultivate for good to be done. The word 'motivation' is not always used in the proper way, risking the Greatest Possession man has: the Soul."

"TIME"

"A precious Gift of life meant to be used productively, morally, mentally, physically. This was God's Intention, and to confirm His Love for the human creation, He instilled within each human being a Portion of Himself, called 'a Soul'.

History tells us we are created to the Image and Likeness of God. We all know there is only man's impression and human interpretation of the real picture and identity of God. Realistically speaking, it is the only way human beings could relate to such a Great Creator."

“REFINEMENT”

“SILENCE”

“It can be a time to develop one’s mind educationally, spiritually and socially.

Silence can be strength, and many times, through silence, one can allow others to be seen, to be heard, to be understood and to understand.

MAY 18, 1992

“The universe is held together by God.

All things originate as a Creation of God.

Who is God?

What is God?

Some One, Some Thing, that we can only relate to in the human form?

Through time we have been given MAJOR SIGNS that an Ultimate Being Exists, or we would not exist, nor would anything else exist.

Documented historical events give proof of the Existence of This Supreme Being, plus documented types of communication substantiating Divine Power at particular times in History, with and through some individuals who cannot identify the Personage of God, but identify It with the Direction from God that showed and shows Itself through unusual, somewhat dramatic and personal circumstances.

Logic says we have been given the capability of making decisions regarding our mental, physical and Spiritual welfare and well-being. Logic also says we have the innate ability to choose one from the other.

God also, through Moses, demonstrated openly His Reasons, His Will for the Special Rules for all of mankind to follow at that time and all time to come.

Our Lord's life on earth further proves the True Existence of God, and the obvious hold that His enemy could intercept, even to the limit of the abominations done to His Son, Our Lord.

True, through God's Love for mankind, He allowed these things to happen and be remembered for two thousand years, thus proving the Greatness of His Love for mankind, showing that injustice, hate, jealousy can be turned into good when God is at the helm, meaning the Sacrifice was used to benefit rather than destroy. It was mankind's jealousy, injustice and desire for power that transcended all of God's Rules, because of human weaknesses.

The Roman Catholic Church is doing the same thing to Our Lord by diminishing His Place in the Church, and in the eyes and hearts of the people by acting as though He is only a symbol of God's Gift, and in humanizing this Ultimate Gift of Faith in His Precious Divine Love for mankind, the men in the Church must and will have to answer to God for breaking down the moral ethics and casting aside and abolishing the True Identity of The Son of God, emphasizing His Importance as a symbol, thusly humanizing this Ultimate Gift of Faith in His Precious Love for mankind. The men in the Church must and will have to answer to God for the abominations emanating from this.

God's Commandments have literally been set aside, omitting the fact that These Commandments were, are, and always will be a great strength to all mankind; plus, The Rules by which and from which mankind is to see the importance of the obedience God expects for the purity of each human being's Soul, to have the Guidelines wherewith the Soul, when It returns to Him, will be in a Glorified State once again in His Realm, in His Being, because It was a Portion of Him that He willingly, lovingly shares with all human beings. We are never without Him. He is never away from us, because He is a Valuable, Important Portion in all we are, all we do, and in all our decisions; because of this Divine Gift of Love from God and His further proof of Love in The Rules He gave us to live by so we would protect this Precious Gift, desiring to return It to Him through our Faith in the True Existence of A Supreme Being.

All the wickedness, barbarism, infidelity, lack of respect for The Commandments of God, are the result of a lack of admitting the Reality and Purpose of These Rules of God, and this insolent abominable treatment must be recognized soon and not allowed to be made absolute by the enemy of God and man, satan.

The benefits that sincere prayer and sincere Faith in God's True Existence will result in the Salvation of Souls.

If this Lesson does not instill or stabilize the fact that God's Commandments, Historical Documentations, plus the obvious power in prayer, plus the innate intelligence of human beings to admit there is a good and an evil, right and a wrong, pure and impure base for decisions of the will and intellect, then what is everything in life about and for what goal?

Also, is it not true that peace, happiness, and hope radiates where good, right and purity result and/or reign?"

“Human life one day becomes a shell of its previous existence.

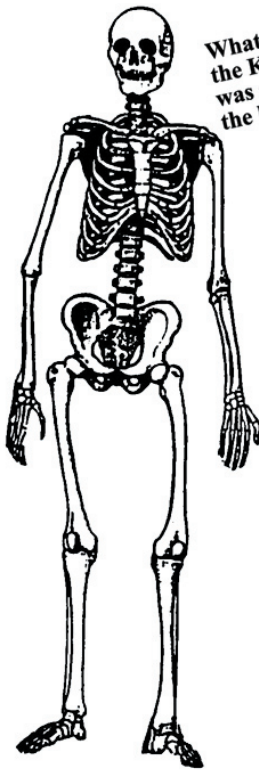

The Purpose of human life does not end but continues to survive through the continued existence of the individual’s Soul. This is why the emphasis must always be on the Soul, that Portion of God that lives on beyond the time the flesh leaves the body.

The bones are only the structure that is the foundation of all the Gifts of human life man is given by God.

The physical body is the temple in which the Soul lives. This is a precious Gift from God at the moment of conception.

Without a Soul, man could be considered a mere form of animal life, designed and created as part of the basic design for a purpose like all animals.

Where is the Soul?

What happened to all the Knowledge that was stored in the brain?

Sight - No longer exists

A lifeless form so there is no communication, no character, no humor, no feeling of any kind.

No need for physical ability.
No place to use it.
No place to go.

There is obviously no sign of ability to use the intellect when this time comes.

There has to have been a Purpose for This Portion of Life.

Remember, It was always present
- where is It now?"

“A GIFT OF FREEDOM, DO WE TRULY UNDERSTAND IT?”

“Love is one of the most beautiful words that we have, but in reality the most misinterpreted word in any language. Man’s meaning of love has so many dimensions of character, truth, expression, feeling, loyalty, concern, emotion and response.

The type of love we relate to is one that most people think of as a personal relationship of a family, the reason for a man and woman to get married, the sincere caring about a relative or a friend. It refers to someone we want to be with as much as we can, do things with them, a feeling of enjoying the same things.

People use tools of expression to emphasize their feeling of love. Emotionalism, lust, possessiveness many times make some people prisoners of a misconception in thinking that these expressions of control are acts of love. NOT SO.

God's Love for mankind is Pure and allows the free will of each human being to act according to the individual's understanding of responsibility of making decisions according to sound moral values and sound moral standards. To insure this Beautiful Generous Gift to man, God gave His Commandments to live by. What greater love can man have than the Love of God."

JULY 20, 1992

“INNOCENCE OR INDIFFERENCE”

“With all the inhumane atrocities, immoral exhibitionists using all the media of communication, drugs destroying the minds and bodies of all ages of mankind, the emphasis on abused children, women and some men, plus the unreal number of abortions that are justified, plus the horrible epidemic of AIDS, plus the deliberate offenses against anything that is pure, truly casts a dark cloud of paganism, satanism, in all areas of the world. Certainly there is some hope available to mankind.

Heaven said a long time ago, ‘You live in a time worse than Sodom and Gomorrah.’ At that time the heresies, atrocities, demoralizing degeneration of so many areas of life, including the home life of many, the workplace, the magazine industry, the entertainment field, the religious organizations advertising their beliefs supposedly based on the Bible and personal powers of individuals, due to their practice of a type of so-called religion, were evident, but many people did not recognize them for what they were.

Perhaps some of them started out with good intentions, but many times the monetary gains caused a humanistic enthusiasm and interest that was not based on the value of religious instruction or love of God, but to gather attention, monetary gain and humanistic pleasures, plus control and power over the followers of their false lifestyle.”

JULY 20, 1992 AT 2:12 P.M.

“Puppets: a small figure representing a human being, manipulated by strings, wire, rods or sometimes even a hand; in other words, controlled by someone else, no mind of its own, no will, no conscience, no Soul, no intellect.

Puppets on strings are subject to the possibility of the strings breaking. Sometimes the strings become weak and the poor puppet is dangling in a very unpredictable way. The puppets are subject to the puppeteer.

Just think, if people were puppets, they would not have a free will to release themselves from the strings and act independently and sufficiently. Of course, many times they do not have the strength to stand on their own and be responsible for standing up to the puppeteer, who is very often in the guise of a clergyman.

Very important words: Sound, True, Christianity. Each of these words connected to the main word ‘Christianity’, are words that are being rejected, because mankind is humanizing and deliberately injecting liberal actions, eliminating God's Rules, and also eliminating respect and self-discipline that is meant to be closely associated, definitely integrated, in the practice of Christianity.

Man has a free will. Man oftentimes argues against things that occur, that cause his will to be passed over, passed by or eliminated, because of the stronger will that is weakening to his will.

Thousands of years mankind has used puppets for entertainment, for instructions, as a hobby, as an art form, and many other reasons for this puppet's presence, use.

Let us now look at the authority in the Organization called 'Church authority'. Think about this. In many ways the members of this Organization could be considered merely puppets. They must do what those in power say, and they must believe what those in power say. It is not an intentional submission; it is an act of respect for what the Organization is supposed to be in leadership of and for: the Salvation of Souls.

So many times this leadership is corrupt, selfish, and uses power plays to control the members of the Organization. Money is and always has been a dominant factor, thus giving more power to those in charge, making the so-called puppets more submissive, because of the innocence in their beliefs, because of their dedication to what they sincerely feel the power stands for, What God Wills.

The time has come when the Real Instruction to save Souls must be passed out to millions of people, instructing mankind to have the strength on their own to see the value of what they possess: that Precious Portion, the Soul.

There have been so many Lessons given to small numbers of people. There have been thousands and thousands and thousands of Words written. Now it is the time to take These Words and send These Words throughout the world. It is the Will of The Father it be done as soon as possible. So be it.”

“A decision based on what an individual feels, sees or believes as fact, truth, but it can be the biggest, most devastating scandal, offense against another person’s reputation, actions, intentions and/or real reason for someone’s decisions. Opinion is many times based on envy, jealousy, poor judgment and/or just ego. Also, opinion, sworn to be fact, can destroy the reputation, even the life of someone or several people.”

“RESTITUTION”

“Just saying ‘I’m sorry,’ or ‘I shouldn’t have done it,’ does not wipe out or clean away the hurt, harm, and/or scar that the offense, sin or damage caused to the mind, body or the Soul, or to the victim of our offensive action.

When we sin and we feel we have to confess it, the penance received in the confessional basically only relieves the conscience, but can we really say we have never repeated the sin and that we won’t sin again?

Restitution* is important, not violent restitution, but a sincere feeling of obligation to show God we love Him and become more aware of the purity of our Soul, an act of love to replace the act of sin.

We can’t bear to see someone we love or even strangers get hurt, so why can’t we learn to protect our Soul from disgrace, harm, scars, or sadness?

We have a moral obligation, a moral responsibility to return our Soul to God in the state of purity that will please God and reward our Soul to enter the Kingdom of God bearing our name; not fictional advice, but factual information.

We all want the good things in the physical life. It should be more wise to strive for Sainthood.

We have God's Rules."

INTERESTS, NECESSITIES, PERSONAL THOUGHTS, CONCERNS, POSSIBLE PROBLEMS, CHORES”

- “1. Does anything, everything in any of the categories above include putting the Safety of my Soul in everything I do?”
- 2. Do I, at some time during the day, examine my conscience?”
- 3. Do I ever think about the moral way I live, my example I left behind for others to remember me by?”

“IF MAN DID NOT HAVE A PORTION OF GOD WITHIN HIS BEING, LOGIC SAYS MAN WOULD NOT HAVE AN INNER FEELING OF A NEED FOR FAIRNESS, JUSTICE, SELF-PROTECTION, WHERE INJUSTICE IS EVIDENT.”

“Important decisions when acted upon, many times lack full understanding of the whole content of the subject matter, thus sometimes jeopardizing the soundness of the moral code of ethics that should be involved.

If an individual or group of individuals cast aside sound moral values and/or sound moral standards to just please someone else or several people, they are not just foolish, but in leaning on the will or wills of others, might be headed straight for Hell.”

“Respect, dignity seem to be only words that someone put in a dictionary. There is so little evidence of either of these types of communication with other human beings — all ages — on property, in friendships, in workplaces, in educational institutions, in political preferences, and so on and so on.

How many people really show respect and/or dignity in reference to their parents, elders, or friends, OR to mankind as a whole?

Ask yourself: ‘Am I responsible for sins against this offensive neglect to others?’”

“What is a sin?

- (a) Offense against God.
- (b) Impure thoughts, words, actions.

What is a venial sin?

An act of impure thought(s), word(s) or action(s).

What determines it a venial sin versus it being a mortal sin?

Its degree of impurity, plus its degree of maliciousness, or depravity of and to one’s Soul.

What is a mortal sin?

Willfulness in immoral thoughts, words and/or actions.

Indifference to the True Existence of God and Total

Unconcern for the purity of one's Soul."

"Why is the taking of a human life or lives taken so lightly as long as one is not connected to the tragedy?

How can anyone justify abortion?

How can anyone justify being part of a gang, using self-protection as the excuse? Granted, self-defense is many times necessary, but what happened to God's Commandment 'Thou Shalt Not Kill'?

Morally the entertainment industry is exploiting murder, using brainwashing tactics, gory participation in ugly mind-controlled situations, plus the game Dungeons and Dragons is a devious means to create a monstrous Power Play that leads to mental and moral destruction.

What sound logic is there in so much mental and emotional abuse, causing people of all ages to forget about God?"

“Whatever happened to God’s Sixth Commandment? Was it justified out of existence because of the conciseness of the one word that simplified it as the oldest sin and/or the oldest profession, thus eliminating all the offenses that were always, and are still very much included in this single, just about forgotten word?”

The offenses against this Commandment are morbid. Various versions of its depraved practices are beyond what the single word ‘adultery’ depicts. Sins against this Commandment are destructive to the mind, body and Soul of all ages.”

“There are many ways to bear false witness against another person: Through suggestions that are intimidating and/or accusations that point the blame for untruths against another’s morals, honesty, integrity, talents, personality, abilities, honor, mental acumen and/or exceptional beneficial abilities, personal gain.”

“A spouse of an individual should be respected and never scandalized physically or morally. Also, any deception should not be tolerated.”

“The property, belongings, possessions of an individual must never be used, abused or taken without the permission and/or restitution if needed, for any damage or loss of said property or belongings.”

JULY 22, 1992

“STOP IGNORING THE IMPORTANCE OF GOD’S COMMANDMENTS”

“The First Commandment is, in many ways, a definite part of every Commandment, because each Commandment reflects back to issues, situations, offenses, emphasizing humanism over holding God above all things.

False gods are many times some bizarre idea, ornamentation, figment of imagination, or even a bold bizarre daring act of using satan as a replacement for The One God that is Pure and True.

God’s Name in vain says not just a lack of respect, but a definite insult, an act of collusion between an individual and satan, because of any foul connection to God’s Name, demeaning to God, which pleases the fallen angel who was cast out of Heaven for so much ugliness and wrongdoing, based on jealousy, envy, and acting equal and/or superior to God.

Remember, a special time for God, and God Alone, is important to our Spiritual welfare, our Soul, and our growth in remembering God is our Creator, and we hold within us a Portion of Him — our Soul.

The Sabbath says: Time dedicated to God for our whole being, our moral strength, our physical strength, and help for our sound moral values and sound moral standards, to secure more purity of mind and body, for our Soul.

Humanly speaking, we associate a mother and father with our very existence. We are taught obedience to them, respect for them, and love is innate in our feeling for them.

This too is in God's Commandments, because spiritually we recognize a Heavenly Father and a Heavenly Mother, and They are the Ultimate Association we have to our earthly parents.

Killing Christ was wrong. He was an Innocent Victim of mercenary greed and other demonic pleasures.

It is wrong to kill in any way, such as being a traitor to our fellowman; killing his body, spirit, happiness, hope, values, standards, purity of the Soul.”

“AN EXAMINATION OF THINGS THAT CAN BE ATTRIBUTED TO AND CONTRIBUTE TO THE DECISIONS OF MY WILL”

“Habits

What effect do my habits have on other people?

Good or Bad?

Routine

Does my routine supersede others’ needs or interfere with their plans?

Yes or No?

Tardiness

Am I consistently tardy, interfering with other people’s schedules or needs?

Yes or No?

Bossy

Do I insist on controlling conversations, situations, with my feeling of knowing what is best, what is right, or am I bossy just to get my way?

Yes or No?

Aggressive

Does my aggressiveness irritate and/or even destroy another person's initiative, ideas, or presence?

Yes or No?

Gossip

If what I say can be termed gossip, will those who hear me be influenced by it?

Yes or No?

Liar

If I tend to lie for attention, those who are victims of my lies, what effect will it have on their morality?

Good or Bad?

Braggart

Does my bragging fall on deaf ears or does it irritate others and cause them to respond unkindly or irritably?

Yes or No?

Leech

Do I use others to support what I want, in spite of what effect it has
on their life?

Am I a clinging vine of interruption or even considered a parasite?

Yes or No?

Egotist

Does my egotism interfere with the enjoyment, the progress or the mood of another
presence?

Yes or No?"

“Attitude

Many decisions I make are based on my attitude.

What is my attitude?

My attitude is picked up by others through my expression on my face, my remarks, my disinterest or interest in something or someone, my tense reaction or my relaxed attitude, and several other obvious signs of my posture in connection to something important or even something unimportant, often results in the decision reflecting my Will.

Dependability

How important is my dependability?

Many areas of my daily life are better or worse, depending on my dependability: Family Matters, Friendships, Workplace, Times of Illnesses, Times of Commitment, Promises. Results of my dependability many times include moral decisions.

Character

My character reflects my stability, my standards of whether or not I am trustworthy, my sensitivity to the circumstances I am faced with, and my strength in the face of opposition or challenge.

My character is very involved with my decisions of my Will.

Integrity

My integrity is definitely an asset, because it speaks out loud that I am ethical in my code of living and can be trusted.

My integrity is valuable in all my decisions through my Will to be just and honest.

Responsibilities

Responsibilities are necessary parts of everyday living.

If I falter in my responsibilities I can deprive others of the time they need to accomplish their responsibilities.

Bearing my responsibilities with dignity and care can strengthen my moral obligations — moral standards and moral values — allowing others to see my feeling about the obligations, and in this my Will, will definitely be pleasing to God.

Nature

My instincts, desires, habits, attitudes, inherent tendencies, activities, personal ideas, ideals, goals, interests, drives, understanding, abilities, disposition, and other characteristics that reflect in what I think, how I handle situations, and what I represent morally or immorally.

Conscience

All the foregoing are involved in my conscience because this is where my moral judgment is definitely tested, resolved, and where the final decision is totally involved.

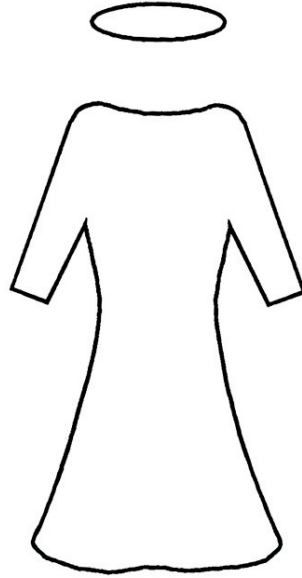

Will

My Will is the key to Sainthood. Why? Because my Will is the result of moral judgments on everything I am faced with that involves my decisions on right or wrong, good or evil — moral or immoral actions, thoughts, example and words.”
