Introduction

This collection of lessons for young children is based on Revelations from The Miracle of Saint Joseph given through Frances Marie Klug, a True Mystic. These simple lessons are accompanied by activities to help children learn about their Soul and how to serve God. Adults can guide children through each lesson to help them understand how to apply Heaven’s Words to their own lives.

Your Soul is a Diamond

Your Soul is a Jewel that God gave you at the moment of your conception. It is a Portion of God that is always with you.

Saint Anne tells us, "Please, My children, polish the Jewel, take care of It and thank God each day for It. And if you feel weak in this way, call on Us. We will help you protect It, and yes, shine It to a glow. Keep in mind, your Heavenly Grandmother stands ready at all times to do this with you." March 9, 1972

Saint Athanasius reminds us in a Revelation from April 19, 2001, "Remember your Soul in every in every act, every word, every deed, because your Soul... will return to The Father, showing all you have done." We must understand that when we do something that displeases God, our Soul gets a dark stain on it. But the good things we do help our Soul to shine brightly with Grace.

Saint Joan of Arc tells us, "The Beloved Heavenly Queen is ever watchful over you. Never feel that you are not in Her Sight. You are, for your Soul is so important, no stain does She want on It, because She wants you" to be with Her one day in Heaven. "The Father waits for the Soul that is a Part of Him, to be returned to Him in Heaven Stainless, Glowing, Beautiful." September 18, 1991

A Lesson on How to Serve God With All He Has Given Us

“My beloved children, I come today to reveal My Way. I come to teach in a special way. What you have learned must be known by all children through the world.

The lack of self-discipline causes sin. The lack of obedience pleases satan, for he says, ‘They’ll never reach The Father acting this way, as man.’

Be humble, children, in every way. That’s why it is necessary to kneel and pray, for as you kneel it says to God, ‘I love You, God, in a special way.’

Remember too, to walk each day in happiness, in kindness, in love, in everything you do, and when you play, let every game that you’re in be fun and give you strength; and it is no sin to want to win, but do not make winning so important that it will cause you to sin.

The eyes The Father gave you are to see all beauty with. They are to lead you every day to Him, but do not ignore the dangers that might lurk where evil is. So, when you see it, do not stay, but walk away from it.

The nose that He did give you is a special part of you, so treat it well, use it right, and make it work for Him.

Revelation from Saint Joseph Delivered on July 17, 1970 at 2:00 pm

And now I take you to your mouth, a main source of sin. Learn not to lie, for when you do, evil is within. Before you speak, think first, and say then to yourself, ‘Will my words be a help or will they cause hurt to someone else?’

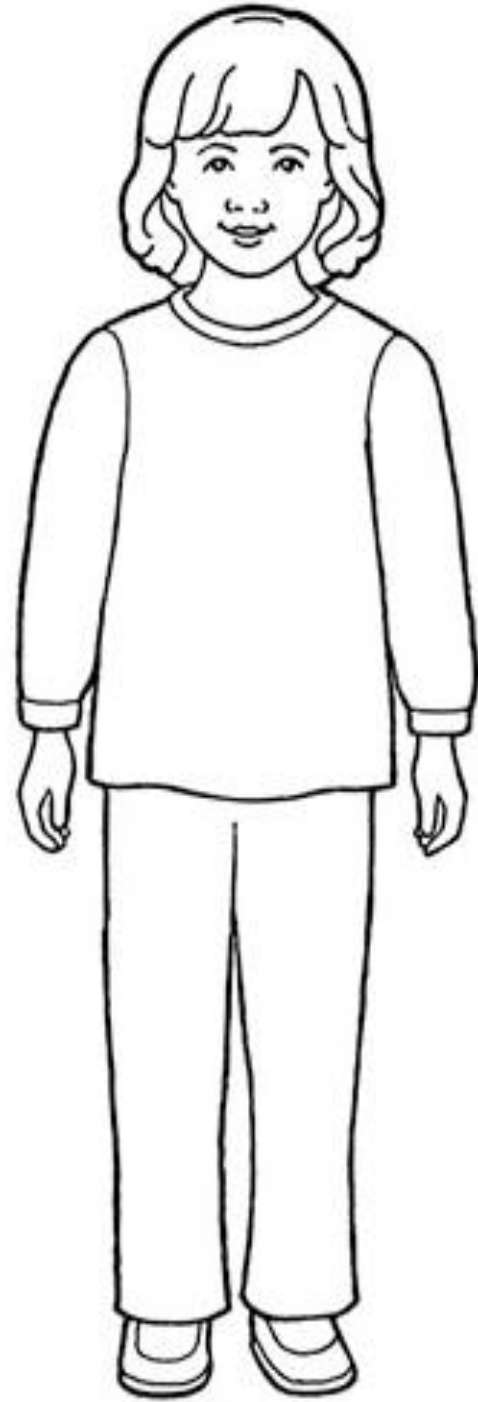

And now I take you to your hands. Use them only for much good. Be careful where you put them and dedicate them for God’s good.

And now I take you to your body. Much is here for you. Let it be all for God from you.

And now I take you to your feet. Where will they lead you to? To Heaven or to Hell? Which would you choose? A foolish child would not choose Heaven. So remember, little ones, to learn to walk, to learn to climb to Heaven, one step at a time.

I am Saint Joseph, the Father of Jesus, as man. I bless you on this day from Where I am. These moments will remain forever without end. I leave a mark upon your heart, a special one from Him. Be good, be kind, be self-disciplined. Remember, too, obedience in everything you do. Be humble in all things and show your love for Him. So be it.”

A Bouquet of Love for God
in the Way of Saint Therese of Lisieux,
'The Little Flower'

Saint Therese of Lisieux lived in France and died when she was 24 years old. She was known as "The Little Flower" because she offered little sacrifices to God and said they were like little flowers for Him.

She followed the "Little Way" to God with small actions and kind words in her daily life.

"Many men call Me 'The Little Flower'. I smile at this when I hear them say, 'She found the Little Way to God.' It is true, the 'Little Way' was Mine, but for many here now in this room, I suggest this way for you.

Ask yourself: If you walked through a field of flowers, would you knock them down or would you step in places so as to not destroy the flowers?"

A Bouquet of Love for God
in the Way of Saint Therese of Lisieux,
'The Little Flower'

"I will walk in the field with you now. We will enjoy the beauty, you and I. Naturally, the color will be stimulating to the eye. One of us will like red, one will like blue, one will like green, for you see, we are all different. What we look at appears different to us. This is good, and that is how you must stand in the world, strong in what you know is truth for you.

Let us walk now, you and I. Let us gather flowers to place at the Feet of The Holy God. There are many large flowers in our vision now, and there are many small ones, and the odor from them seems to be greater by far. We must think logically and we must look at what the bouquet will appear to be when it is full of our pickings for The Divine Three. One of you will say, 'I want only roses.' One of you will say, 'I like the little flowers for they smell so good to me today.'

Now, when we come to the end of this beautiful garden, you will find all our bouquets are different: some big, some small, and yet, all a different kind; and so it is with your lives as you walk each day.

When you stand before The Father, the bouquet that you will hand Him will be your way, so I suggest on this day, 'Do not step over the flowers you think are not for you, but gather those too, along the way, and be sure that the bouquet is as large as you can hold, for in reality, this bouquet will show your love to God alone.' So, as you lay it at His Feet and you do say to Him, 'It is my gift to You, God; I picked them, not out of whim but with love, and I gathered as many as I could,' in reality, this bouquet will be your acts of love. It will be the service that you rendered every day. It will also guarantee Sainthood, as Mine did one day.

I bless you with The Father's Love and with the Grace He gives, and I say, 'Begin today the bouquet to give to Him, and as you do, remember this: Keep picking as you go, so you will enjoy the beauty every day.' So be it."

A Story About the Paths to Reach Heaven

"My children, I am Saint Bernadette, and All the things I have said to you thus far, I want you to remember as you walk in the world among mankind making decisions, of which way you will decide: to be good, to be bad, or to be indifferent. Do you understand, My little ones?"

Let us, you and I, gather together and talk about going to God. There are many, many paths to take to reach Him but some of the paths will give you Greater Glory in Heaven. Some of these paths are rocky, some are smooth, some are happy, some are sad. The path you will take will be chosen by you and everything you do on this path will be your decision, through your will.

Now let us, you and I, walk a path to God. Let us pick one that is smooth. Let us choose a path of happiness and a way in which our lives will bear much fruit. This path can be for everyone if they choose. Now, to walk this path we must live our daily lives, we must perform tasks for the physical way. We must take care of ourselves and we must pray, we must be obedient in every way. We must trust in God's Way.

Now, My little ones, we are walking down the path and suddenly there is a great rock in our way. Do you know who put that rock there for us? It was the evil one; so now it is time to pray. Shall we jump over the rock, shall we try to go around the rock, or shall we allow the rock to keep us from going on, God's Way and in His Way?

And so it is in your life. There will be many, many rocks no matter which path you choose to take, for as long as you are on the path to God, the evil one will throw in rocks, and you must become so alert in knowing how to cross these rocks, that no rock will make you stop. The wisest way to handle this situation is to pray, for prayer will either remove the rock or will give you the strength to cross over it and be on your way. The greatest prayer in the world that you can say is the Holy Rosary every day.

I bless you with God's Love; and when you feel that prayer is difficult to say, look My Way and I will help you pray.

So be it."
